Goldwater Angers 4 Governors

Boycott Entirely Wrong, One View

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's boycott of the All-Republican conference drew sharp criticism today from four GOP governors.

Govs. John H. Reed of Maine, Norman A. Erbe of Iowa, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho and George D. Clyde of Utah voiced strong support for the new Republican organization formed last Saturday at former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Called Healthy Idea

In Gettysburg, a spokesman for Eisenhower said the general had not read Goldwater's statement and therefore could not comment.

Smylie said he thinks Goldwater is "entirely wrong about his approach to this matter."

"This conference will give all of the elements of the Republican party an opportunity to come forward with their views," Smylie said. "I think this is a very healthy thing for the party."

Each of the four governors said in his own way in separate interviews he believes Goldwater, a spokesman for conservatives, is making a mistake in turning his back on a conference sponsored to give governors, state party officials and non-office holders a voice in party affairs.

The Arizona senator, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, wrote National Chairman William E. Miller Monday that leaders of the new conference group are people who caused most of our party troubles.

"It is unthinkable," he said, that they should be given another opportunity to lead us down the path of destruction. Let's be done with these splinter groups."

Dems Tried Same

Reached at his summer home near Buffalo, N.Y., Miller said he had not received Goldwater's letter. "And I don't wish to make any comment on it until I read it thoroughly," he said.

When the Democrats were out of power they set up a Democratic Advisory Council. Its aim was to give the party a national voice during the Republican Eisenhower administration.

The council ran into trouble from the start.

Sees $15 Billion Deficit

Byrd Assails Chamber Call for Big Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today denounced the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's call for a substantial income tax cut.

Byrd said the reduction would be inflationary and would mean a $15-billion federal deficit.

Byrd thus joined the committee's senior Republican, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., in assailing the chamber's proposal.

Popular but Disastrous

Williams told the Senate Monday that "while it may be politically popular at the time, the long-range inflationary results for Americans would be disastrous."

He declared that "I refuse to have any part of such irresponsible action as to endorse a tax cut in the face of our present deficit."

Byrd told a reporter he would have a detailed statement on the chamber's recommendation later.

But he said that congressional tax experts already had advised him that th proposal would chop tax revenues by $9.5 billion a year instead of the maximum $7.5 billion estimated by chamber officials.

Byrd said he was convinced that even without a tax reduction there would be a federal deficit of $6 billion in the fiscal year which began Sunday.

Thus, Byrd said, the chamber's tax proposal would lead to a deficit of more than $15 billion.

Broadside at Governors

Williams aimed a broadside at Govs. Nelson a. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican, and Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, and Edmund G. Brown of California, Democrats. He said he had noted they had joined "in the parade calling for an immediate tax reduction."

"Significantly, last week at the governors' conference we find that the governors were calling for

Brazil Approves Andrade Premier Succeeding Neves

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies today approved Senate President Auro Soares de Moura Andrade to be Brazil's premier, ending a week's government crisis.

One of Youngest

Andrade, 46, a conservative and one of Brazil's youngest senators, was approved by a 222-51 vote after a six-hour session.

Andrade told the chamber he would make the battle against inflation the first order of business for his government. He also vowed to work for agrarian, banking and tax reforms but said Congress would have to pass the necessary laws.

He said he would retain the foreign policy of the last government headed by Premier Tancredo Neves and would maintain all of Brazil's international commitments.

Goulart Choice Rejected

Neves' Cabinet resigned June 26 so some of its members could qualify as candidates in the October congressional election.

The Chamber of Deputies last Thursday rejected President Joao Goulart's first nominee, controversial Foreign Minister Francisco San Tiago Dantas, who was accused of following a soft policy toward the Castro regime in Cuba.

GOP Aims For Strong CR Action

Intend to Carry Fight to Floor

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Caucusing Republicans agreed today to try to force a showdown vote at the Governors' Conference on a strong civil rights resolution.

With the Resolutions Committee still trying to produce a compromise proposal in this and the field of health care for the elderly, Republican governors decided to carry their fight to the floor if that is necessary to get a "meaningful" civil rights declaration.

But the Republicans were split over the issue of financing health care through Social Security taxes. Democrats, who outnumbered them 34-16, seemed likely to produce a majority for endorsement of this program.

Invited for Sessions

The conference, which closes with a visit Wednesday to Philadelphia where President Kennedy will speak, got a series of invitations for forthcoming sessions.

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida put in a bid for Miami in 1963, promising the governors they would get a look at a Cape Canaveral space shot. His invitation seemed likely to be accepted later in the year by the Executive Committee.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey asked the governors to meet in Atlantic City in 1964, promising they could also visit the New York World's Fair on the same trip.

Rocky Favors N.Y.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he thinks the meeting ought to be held in New York but added he will cooperate with New Jersey.

Gov. Edmund B. (Pat) Brown said he wants the governors to come to San Diego, Calif., in 1963. He promised them a visit to Mexico. "And by the way," he said, "I will be there to greet you."

To Discuss Guard

Brown faces reelection opposition in November from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Not to be outdone, Rockefeller, also seeking reelection, said that if the governors come to New York in 1964, "I'll be there to greet you."

In a later session, Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington was expected to be elected the new chairman, to succeed Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire.

The future of the National Guard was the major item on the Monday agenda which wound up with the governors taking a "no compromise" position against the

Rejects 'Grassroots Choice'

Race Is Open, McKeon Reply on Stratton Poll

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Conflict appeared to be boiling anew today in the state Democratic party as Chairman William H. McKeon rejected a claim by Rep. Samuel S. Stratton that the latter was the "grassroots choice" of Democrats for governor.

Need More Time

McKeon issued a statement saying most Democrats "clearly desire more time in which to make up their minds."

The chairman said the statement was a reply to a letter from Stratton in which the Schenectady Democrat said "the results of your poll" showed Stratton to be leading the other announced candidates for the nomination.

McKeon, in Auburn, told a reporter his sampling of sentiment never was intended as a poll and had shown no statement preference. The race is wide open, he said. He added that candidates were free to make public whatever polls they chose.

In his letter to McKeon, Stratton said that, according to reports, Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor of Queens and Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua "have

Mutinous Guerrillas Massing

Roaring Welcome Awaiting Khedda

ALGIERS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle today proclaimed Algeria independent after 132 years of French rule. Africa's newest nation faced the threat of a new civil war from guerrilla troops seeking to put radical Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella into power.

As 4,500 mutinous nationalist guerrillas massed southwest of Algiers, the capital's jubilant Moslems readied a roaring welcome for Premier Youssef Ben Khedda and his nationalist government. The moderate leaders were flying from their Tunisian exile to try to stifle the guerrilla revolt and assert their rule over Algeria.

Makes It Official

Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—as the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

"By the self-determination vote of July 1, 1962," the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France.

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Fares of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

Merger Is Likely

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive.

Late Monday night, as crowds of roaring, cheering Moslems roamed the streets of Algiers celebrating the overwhelming vote Sunday for independence, guerrillas loyal to Ben Khedda's government took control of public buildings in the capital to deny them to Ben Bella's dissidents.

Some 3,000 guerrillas in central Algeria were in a state of open mutiny, led by Maj. Si Mokhtar.

Strike Is Inappropriate Weapon, Teachers Advised

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Public school teachers were advised today "you can't go out on an illegal strike one day and expect to go back to your classroom and teach good citizenship the next."

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association said, "The strike as a weapon for teachers is inappropriate, unprofessional, illegal, outmoded and ineffective."

Corey's remarks at the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association continued a NEA barrage against teacher unions.

In an interview elaborating on a speech to be given later today, Corey said teachers cannot be expected to remain forever silent in the face of intolerable working conditions.

If professional negotiations with the school boards fail, he said, teachers should work through their professional organizations to apply sanctions against the school district involved.

When sanctions are applied, Corey said, "We advise the public through newspapers, radio and television that, in the opinion of the California Teachers Association, conditions in the district are not conducive to professional work by teachers.

"We refuse the district the use of our teacher placement service, and we notify every teacher placement office in the United States of our stand.

"This brings the full force of public opinion to bear on the district. Public opinion carries a lot of weight where the schools are concerned."

Sanctions are never applied until all other means have failed, Corey said.

"But let me emphasize—this is not a strike," Corey said. "The teachers do not walk out on the youngsters. We leave open every avenue for correcting the bad conditions."

Britain, Russia to Get Disputed Laotian Issues

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thresh out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference co-chairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Pushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly, the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Red China and North Viet Nam touched off Monday's exchange during a three-hour session of speeches welcoming the formation of a coalition Laotian government.

Red Chinese delegate Chang Han Fu accused the United States of heightening tensions in Southeast Asia by sending troops to Thailand and by "armed intervention" in South Viet Nam and the Formosa Strait.

North Vietnamese delegate Hoang Nguyen charged that the success of the conference was "seriously threatened by the presence of U.S. troops in Thailand."

W. Averell Harriman, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, protested that the Communists had broken conference rules by bringing up issues not involving Laos.

The question of U.S. troops in Thailand was out of order, he said, "just as it would be for me to raise the question of foreign military personnel who are well known to be present in North Viet Nam as well as certain other neighboring countries."

Red Chinese units have been reported in North Viet Nam.

The United States rushed a task force to Thailand in mid-May after the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels broke the cease-fire in neighboring Laos and swept up close to the Thai border. The United States said its troops had been requested by the Thai government.

The United States began pulling out 1,000 Marines this week after the feuding factions in Laos patched up their differences and formed a coalition government. It kept 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops in Thailand.

Makes It Official

Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—as the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

"By the self-determination vote of July 1, 1962," the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France.

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Fares of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

Merger Is Likely

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive.

Late Monday night, as crowds of roaring, cheering Moslems roamed the streets of Algiers celebrating the overwhelming vote Sunday for independence, guerrillas loyal to Ben Khedda's government took control of public buildings in the capital to deny them to Ben Bella's dissidents.

Some 3,000 guerrillas in central Algeria were in a state of open mutiny, led by Maj. Si Mokhtar.

Saugerties July Holiday Program Features Listed

The Saugerties Jaycees have engaged the Criterions, outstanding drum and bugle corps from Port Ewen for the 4th of July. The Criterions who recently performed at Dietz Stadium in their own show "Pageant of Champions" will march in the newly formed 9th Division. Later at 11:30 a. m. at Cantine Field the Criterions will put on a drum and bugle corps exhibition. They will go through their usual maneuvers with skill and precision while playing a combination of songs that should please all.

Robert has been flying model airplanes since he was seven years old and has been handling gas engine model planes for the past five years. He has entered various state and national meets and won many awards, recently Robert placed 6th in the national competition for the stunt class. He will be flying required patterns used in state and national competition, weather permitting. This should be an outstanding extra to the field day.

Strike Is Inappropriate Weapon, Teachers Advised

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)— Public school teachers were advised today "you can't go out on an illegal strike one day and expect to go back to your classroom and teach good citizenship the next."

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association said, "The strike as a weapon for teachers is inappropriate, unprofessional, illegal, outmoded and ineffective."

Corey's remarks at the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association continued a NEA barrage against teacher unions.

In an interview elaborating on a speech to be given later today, Corey said teachers cannot be expected to remain forever silent in the face of intolerable working conditions.

If professional negotiations with the school boards fail, he said, teachers should work through their professional organizations to apply sanctions against the school district involved.

When sanctions are applied, Corey said, "We advise the public through newspapers, radio and television that, in the opinion of the California Teachers Association, conditions in the district are not conducive to professional work by teachers.

"We refuse the district the use of our teacher placement service, and we notify every teacher placement office in the United States of our stand.

"This brings the full force of public opinion to bear on the district. Public opinion carries a lot of weight where the schools are concerned."

Sanctions are never applied until all other means have failed, Corey said.

"But let me emphasize—this is not a strike," Corey said. "The teachers do not walk out on the youngsters. We leave open every avenue for correcting the bad conditions."

Britain, Russia to Get Disputed Laotian Issues

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thresh out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference co-chairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Pushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly, the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Red China and North Viet Nam touched off Monday's exchange during a three-hour session of speeches welcoming the formation of a coalition Laotian government.

Red Chinese delegate Chang Han Fu accused the United States of heightening tensions in Southeast Asia by sending troops to Thailand and by "armed intervention" in South Viet Nam and the Formosa Strait.

North Vietnamese delegate Hoang Nguyen charged that the success of the conference was "seriously threatened by the presence of U.S. troops in Thailand."

W. Averell Harriman, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, protested that the Communists had broken conference rules by bringing up issues not involving Laos.

The question of U.S. troops in Thailand was out of order, he said, "just as it would be for me to raise the question of foreign military personnel who are well known to be present in North Viet Nam as well as certain other neighboring countries."

Red Chinese units have been reported in North Viet Nam.

The United States rushed a task force to Thailand in mid-May after the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels broke the cease-fire in neighboring Laos and swept up close to the Thai border. The United States said its troops had been requested by the Thai government.

The United States began pulling out 1,000 Marines this week after the feuding factions in Laos patched up their differences and formed a coalition government. It kept 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops in Thailand.

Panel Instructed To Check Conduct Of Judge Friedman

NEW YORK (AP) — A special judicial panel empowered to remove a judge from office has been instructed to examine the conduct of State Supreme Court Justice Louis L. Friedman, 56, of Brooklyn.

Presiding Justice George J. Beldock of the Appellate Division ordered the investigation. He told a news conference Monday the basic charge against Justice Friedman was that he withheld certain business records of his brother, a lawyer, during an inquiry into ambulance chasing.

Justice Friedman is a former Democratic state senator who has held a $34,500 seat on the State Supreme Court since 1955. His term expires in 1970.

The brother, M. Malcolm Friedman, has been ordered suspended from law practice for two years as an outgrowth of the investigation that involved a number of lawyers. Justice Friedman formerly was his brother's law partner.

Justice Friedman, who is on vacation, said "I don't know what it's all about. I don't know what the charges are supposed to be. I've done nothing corrupt. I've done nothing wrong that I know of."

This is the second case in less than six months that the conduct of a Brooklyn State Supreme Court justice has been questioned.

Last Dec. 7, State Supreme Court Justice J. Vincent Keogh of Brooklyn was indicted on charges of accepting $22,500 in a vain attempt last year to fix a federal court criminal case. He was convicted June 6 and faces up to five years in prison.

Keogh originally was scheduled for sentencing July 17. However, the sentencing was deferred Monday to Aug. 2. Meanwhile, Keogh resigned effective July 18, and the matter of his $20,000-a-year pension rights await final disposition of his case.

Keogh, also a Democrat and 56, served at the same salary as Friedman in the same Second Judicial District in Brooklyn.

Graham Film Slated Saturday

Hudson Valley Youth for Christ will show the Billy Graham film Souls in Conflict Saturday night on College Hill Park, Poughkeepsie. Hymn sing will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Souls in Conflict, a trilogy, was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a full feature length film in color. The story of Souls in Conflict encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuals, troubled with the present and completely confused about the future.

Joan Winmill, star of the British TV spy thriller, Epitaph for a Spy, and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays the actress. Eric Micklewood is the jet pilot and Charles Leno the factory worker.

Souls in Conflict was produced by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. The Graham organization anticipates this screen presentation will surpass the success of an earlier film, Mr. Texas, described as "the world's first Christian western."

'Yankee Go Home'

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Acting Premier Prince Souphanouvong said today he would like to see all American troops leave neighboring Thailand because "Laos is not threatening anybody."

The pro-Communist prince told foreign newsmen he had read newspaper reports that the United States was pulling out 1,000 Marines from its 5,000-man task force stationed in Thailand, but, he added, "I am skeptical about them."

Civil War Threat

They were joined by an estimated 1,500 soldiers of the French-led Moslem local security force. About 30 French officers and noncommissioned officers were with them, presumably against their will.

Opposes Cooperation

The insurgent troops backed the cause of Ben Bella, the radical vice premier who fled from Tunis to Tripoli after a violent clash with Ben Khedda and other moderate members of the nationalist regime.

Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France. He wants a sweeping socialist revolution for Algeria, oriented toward the United Arab Republic's President Gamel Abdel Nasser and dependence on the Communist bloc rather than the West for economic and military aid.

Another 40,000 nationalist guerrillas were scattered over Algeria. So far there was no indication that they were joining the revolt against Ben Khedda.

Two Defendants Will Testify in Trial for Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two of the five defendants charged with murdering a retired jeweler from Albany, N. Y., Sam L. Resnick, are to testify in their own defense.

Attorneys for Ernest Spurlock, 20, and John Henry Lewis Jones, 20, announced this Monday after the prosecution rested its case.

Also charged are R.E. Jackson, 20; his brother Clemmie, 19, and Jesse Tillis 19. All five are Phoenix area Negroes.

The body of Resnick, 61 was found March 4 off a desert trail about 10 miles north of here. He had been strangled The five admit the slaying and say Resnick hired them to do it because he had incurable cancer.

Only Clemmie Jackson allegedly a go-between in the kill-for-hire slaying, was not present at the killing.

Attorneys for all five Monday asked a directed verdict of acquittal but were turned down by Judge George Sterling. However, the jurist took under advisement a move to dismiss the charge against Clemmie.

Visitor Dies in County

A Brooklyn resident vacationing at a villa in Plattekill died suddenly Monday night. He was Girolamia Russo, 75, of 29 Rockaway Avenue, Brooklyn. About 10:30 last night he retired after complaining of chest pains. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Charles P. Scuderi of Marlboro. Coroner Francis J. McCardle of Kingston was summoned and gave a verdict of death from coronary occlusion. Highland State Police conducted an investigation. The remains were taken in charge by a Brooklyn undertaker and removed to Brooklyn.

Adenauer, DeGaulle Chat

PARIS (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany opened private talks with French President Charles de Gaulle today.

No official word on the subject of their conversation was made public. Sources close to the West German delegation said, however, that the subjects included steps to further improve French-German relations, Britain's entry into the European Common Market, further European political cooperation, and common defense policy within the North Atlantic

Fire Station Falls Apart as It Is Moved

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The darndest thing happened while Rocky Ridge firemen were moving their fire station.

It fell to pieces.

Volunteer firemen in suburban Rocky Ridge raised the station from its foundation and got it onto a flat bed trailer.

Fire station and truck had just started moving when the building collapsed.

The firemen are now moving their station piece by piece to the new site where it will be rebuilt.

Byrd Assails

more and more federal aid from Washington," Williams said.

"These governors, as well as the President and the United States Chamber of Commerce, know full well that a tax cut in the face of a continuous rise in government spending would lead to a staggering deficit. A deliberately planned deficit of such proportions at this time would be the most inflationary action this administration could take."

ADA Demands Cut

The Americans for Democratic Action today joined the tax cut cry, demanding "a sharp reduction in income tax rates, concentrated in the lower brackets."

The ADA said a cut "has become a matter of immediate urgency to invigorate the national economy."

A U.S. Chamber spokesman opposed proposals for taxing U.S. firms' earnings on foreign investments, part of the administration's tax revision bill.

The chamber spokesman, Washington lawyer Walter Slowinski, complained today before the Senate Finance Committee that the foreign earnings tax proposals "are so drafted as to prevent U.S.-controlled foreign corporations from competing on equal terms with foreign-owned corporations on foreign soil."

In his prepared testimony, Slowinski said the provisions "are hastily drafted, stop-gap measures which leave many serious technical issues unresolved."

Race Is Open

Urger Congress Campaign

In Norwich, David E. Lee, Chenango County Democratic chairman, repeating a view that several county chairmen have expressed, said he felt Stratton "should start soon" to campaign for the congressional nomination in the 35th District.

In a letter to McKeon, Stratton added:

"It so happens that the results of your poll agree completely with the results of four other grass-roots polls already published in various parts of the state, from which I also emerged as the voters' top choice."

He said these polls were in Syracuse and Rochester, and in Rockland and Westchester counties.

No Trend Yet

Stratton asked McKeon to advise him "what steps the state committee plans to take to convert the now clearly expressed wishes of the rank-and-file Democratic voters into the final selection of the convention delegates in September."

McKeon said in a statement he "had hoped by this time that a trend for particular possible Democratic candidates for the various high offices might have materialized," but it had not. He did not mention Stratton.

New Paltz School

the present plan of a school on the new site while others in the district, including Supervisor George Majestic (D) of Gardiner sought to defeat the plan, contending that the present Gardiner school site was suitable for expansion at a lower cost to the taxpayers.

Adoption of the bond issue yesterday by the close vote created considerable excitement in the area but since the voting was by machine voters feel there is little opportunity for protest. There had been no indication of a protest, it was stated at the school today.

Patrolmen Favor Pay Raise Over Clothes Allowance

Aldermen attending a meeting of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association Monday night learned that members of the organization are mainly interested in a pay raise rather than a clothing allowance.

The discussion in the court room at city hall was presided over by Patrolman John Crespino, president of KPA. Other officers attending were Thomas Carpino, Frank Stipp and Harry Short.

Among aldermen present were Frank Sass, Frank Koenig, Democrats, and Clark W. Myers, Republican, all members of the common council finance committee.

Other aldermen there were Donald M. Hastings, Arthur Smith, Joseph Tomaszewski, Frank Adams, Democrats, and Harold Kaye, Democratic alderman-at-large.

Joseph Carroll, minority leader of the council, and John Machione, Republicans also attend.

Law Signed by Mayor

On June 14, Mayor John J. Schwenk signed a local law to permit monetary allowance to police and fire department personnel in the purchase of uniforms.

His signature followed a public hearing June 13 at which there was no comment for or against the law.

Polcie board action earlier in the year favored such a measure. The law provided the city may purchase uniforms in whole or part for personnel of the two departments.

The patrolmen feel a pay raise is the best solution.

Alderman Hastings said it is up to the police board about carrying out the local law, "all we can do is vote for transfer of money from one account to another."

He favored a meeting with the board, an arrangement which had been turned down.

"I don't feel any of us can commit ourselves until such a meeting," said Alderman Koenig.

Suggests Referendum

Alderman Sass suggested a referendum and was of the opinion it could be handled through the common council, thus saving an expense that the patrolmen said would be entailed if they followed the procedure of getting signers to put it on the election ballot.

Alderman Carroll was for taking up the matter with the finance committee of the council, especially at budget time to make provision for the matter.

Alderman Machione wanted to hear some of the grievances of the patrolmen "so I can tell the people in my ward. They want to know."

Some Grievances

Here were some mentioned:

Patrolmen are subject to call at any time, and have to work overtime without pay; they are called for grand jury testimony and must spend hours there on their own time; they can't spend time relaxing with ther families because of the call of duty, which is liable to be at any time; patrolmen have to draw on their pension fund to meet bills; it has been over four years since they had a raise (starting salary is $3,640, maximum $5,000); special duty at a parade can call for five hours of work without compensation.

Blue Mountain Woods Fire Is Extinguished

All three units of Centerville Fire Department, two from Centerville station and one pumper from Cedar Grove Firehouse responded early today to a woods fire at Blue Mountain.

Granville Scotty Myers, first driver of Centerville Fire Company said about an acre of pine woods burned off before the blaze was brought under control. Fire officials reported that the blaze started from a camp fire that was not completely extinguished. Centerville Chief Robert Thein was in charge of the units at the scene.

Also reporting at the scene was Aaron Van DeBogart, forest ranger. The alarm was sounded at 12:55 a. m.

GOP Aims

Kennedy administration plan to pare down and streamline the Guard and Reserve system. This was outlined in the key speech, by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Are Unimpressed

The governors listened politely and stingily applauded McNamara's scientifically oriented explanation of why they should give up 295 National Guard units. They were unimpressed with an hour's closed meeting with the secretary.

As Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia put it afterwards, the governors were willing to sit down and reason with McNamara about the matter, but, by the Continental Congress, they were not going to have the federal government cut any local units in their states.

In his prepared text put out in Washington, McNamara had said: "We want no paper tigers in our Reserve structure."

But this line was deleted shortly before he made his talk to the 54th Governors Conference. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

Want Local Control

The Washington threat to the Guard was only one of the issues on which the governors said they want local control of almost everything that concerns the lives of their voters—except, of course, the fat federal aid without which the states could not operate today.

There was even an argument over whether the U.S. Supreme Court could interfere in a state's right to have a prayer said in its public schools. This stemmed from the court's decision that a state-dictated prayer in New York was illegal.

A couple of unlikely companions in this adventure, Govs. Farris Bryant, Florida Democrat, and John H. Ree, Maine Republican, gave birth to a resolution to put the conference on record as regretting the court's decision and urging Congress to amend the Constitution to "make clear and beyond challenge" the nation's traditional faith in God.

At that point came a parliamentary snafu. The conference has a rule that all resolutions must be submitted 30 days in advance. This one hadn't been and Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Idaho Republican, entered a dissent to its consideration.

Smylie and Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Arkansas Democrat, exchanged bitter unpleasantries. Faubus said Smylie had made an "untimely objection" to the resolution.

Smylie replied acidly that he had heard Faubus, a segregation advocate, make some "very untimely objections to some very worthy resolutions which have been before this conference."

The betting was that despite all of the straining there would not be much significance in any civil rights proclamation issued by the conference.

It seemed likely to ring out with considerably less authority than the clang of the Liberty Bell, which will end this conference Wednesday with a speech by President Kennedy in Philadelphia.

On the medicare issue, Republicans and Democrats were so divided it seems possible that the conference may go on record in favor of Social Security financing, but in such broad terms as to be meaningless.

Goldwater Angers

the protests of many Southern delegates.

The group was not received with open arms by the party's congressional leaders, many of whom refused to join it.

They said party policy in Congress could not be bound by actions of an outside group.

Although Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated he thinks the party is becoming "over-organized," the four governors said they had no such fears.

Summer Advice For Pet Owners Issued by SPCA

The Ulster County SPCA today urged all pet owners to be sure that their animals can reach a shady spot and have fresh, clean water several times each day during the hot summer months.

Animals can react to excessive doses of extreme heat much the same as do humans. They can suffer from heat prostration and heat stroke too. Dogs suffering from prolonged exposure to the sun on very hot days can easily be mistaken for a rabid animal.

The SPCA reminds dog owners that a small doghouse can become unbearingly hot and so offer little or no protection to the animal.

Pilot Fined $50 For Ignoring Fire Warning Feb. 20th

WASHINGTON (AP) — Norman C. Seebach, a Mohawk Airlines pilot, has been fined $50 by the completing a, Newark, N.J.-Albany, N.Y., flight despite a fire warning signal immediately after takeoff.

The fire warning signal lasted only a brief period. Seebach, a Cranford, N.J., resident, said he and his flight engineer made several checks and then decided to continue to Albany. The flight was Feb. 20.

The FAA reported that at Albany an inspection showed that heat from the rupture of a cylinder exhaust stack in the right engine had scorched and charred electrical wiring in the plane, a Martin 404.

The agency said Seebach operated the plane carelessly in continuing the flight after the warning signal.

Panel Instructed To Check Conduct Of Judge Friedman

NEW YORK (AP) — A special judicial panel empowered to remove a judge from office has been instructed to examine the conduct of State Supreme Court Justice Louis L. Friedman, 56, of Brooklyn.

Presiding Justice George J. Beldock of the Appellate Division ordered the investigation. He told a news conference Monday the basic charge against Justice Friedman was that he withheld certain business records of his brother, a lawyer, during an inquiry into ambulance chasing.

Justice Friedman is a former Democratic state senator who has held a $34,500 seat on the State Supreme Court since 1955. His term expires in 1970.

The brother, M. Malcolm Friedman, has been ordered suspended from law practice for two years as an outgrowth of the investigation that involved a number of lawyers. Justice Friedman formerly was his brother's law partner.

Justice Firedman, who is on vacation, said "I don't know what it's all about. I don't know what the charges are supposed to be. I've done nothing corrupt. I've done nothing wrong that I know of."

This is the second case in less than six months that the conduct of a Brooklyn State Supreme Court justice has been questioned.

Last Dec. 7, State Supreme Court Justice J. Vincent Keogh of Brooklyn was indicted on charges of accepting $22,500 in a vain attempt last year to fix a federal court criminal case. He was convicted June 6 and faces up to five years in prison.

Keogh originally was scheduled for sentencing July 17. However, the sentencing was deferred Monday to Aug. 2. Meanwhile, Keogh resigned effective July 18, and the matter of his $20,000-a-year pension rights await final disposition of his case.

Keogh, also a Democrat and 56, served at the same salary as Friedman in the same Second Judicial District in Brooklyn.

Graham Film Slated Saturday

Hudson Valley Youth for Christ will show the Billy Graham film Souls in Conflict Saturday night on College Hill Park, Poughkeepsie. Hymn sing will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Souls in Conflict, a trilogy, was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a full feature length film in color. The story of Souls in Conflict encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuals, troubled with the present and completely confused about the future.

Joan Winmill, star of the British TV spy thriller, Epitaph for a Spy, and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays the actress. Eric Micklewood is the jet pilot and Charles Leno the factory worker.

Souls in Conflict was produced by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. The Graham organization anticipates this screen presentation will surpass the success of an earlier film, Mr. Texas, described as "the world's first Christian western."

'Yankee Go Home'

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Acting Premier Prince Souphanouvong said today he would like to see all American troops leave neighboring Thailand because "Laos is not threatening anybody."

The pro-Communist prince told foreign newsmen he had read newspaper reports that the United States was pulling out 1,000 Marines from its 5,000-man task force stationed in Thailand, but, he added, "I am skeptical about them."

Civil War Threat

They were joined by an estimated 1,500 soldiers of the French-led Moslem local security force. About 30 French officers and noncommissioned officers were with them, presumably against their will.

Opposes Cooperation

The insurgent troops backed the cause of Ben Bella, the radical vice premier who fled from Tunis to Tripoli after a violent clash with Ben Khedda and other moderate members of the nationalist regime.

Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France. He wants a sweeping socialist revolution for Algeria, oriented toward the United Arab Republic's President Gamel Abdel Nasser and dependence on the Communist bloc rather than the West for economic and military aid.

Another 40,000 nationalist guerrillas were scattered over Algeria. So far there was no indication that they were joining the revolt against Ben Khedda.

Two Defendants Will Testify in Trial for Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two of the five defendants charged with murdering a retired jeweler from Albany, N. Y., Sam L. Resnick, are to testify in their own defense.

Attorneys for Ernest Spurlock, 20, and John Henry Lewis Jones, 20, announced this Monday after the prosecution rested its case.

Also charged are R.E. Jackson, 20; his brother Clemmie, 19, and Jesse Tillis 19. All five are Phoenix area Negroes.

The body of Resnick, 61 was found March 4 off a desert trail about 10 miles north of here. He had been strangled The five admit the slaying and say Resnick hired them to do it because he had incurable cancer.

Only Clemmie Jackson allegedly a go-between in the kill-for-hire slaying, was not present at the killing.

Attorneys for all five Monday asked a directed verdict of acquittal but were turned down by Judge George Sterling. However, the jurist took under advisement a move to dismiss the charge against Clemmie.

Visitor Dies in County

A Brooklyn resident vacationing at a villa in Plattekill died suddenly Monday night. He was Girolamia Russo, 75, of 29 Rockaway Avenue, Brooklyn. About 10:30 last night he retired after complaining of chest pains. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Charles P. Scuderi of Marlboro. Coroner Francis J. McCardle of Kingston was summoned and gave a verdict of death from coronary occlusion. Highland State Police conducted an investigation. The remains were taken in charge by a Brooklyn undertaker and removed to Brooklyn.

Fire Station Falls Apart as It Is Moved

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The darndest thing happened while Rocky Ridge firemen were moving their fire station.

It fell to pieces.

Volunteer firemen in suburban Rocky Ridge raised the station from its foundation and got it onto a flat bed trailer.

Fire station and truck had just started moving when the building collapsed.

The firemen are now moving their station piece by piece to the new site where it will be rebuilt.

Byrd Assails

more and more federal aid from Washington," Williams said.

"These governors, as well as the President and the United States Chamber of Commerce, know full well that a tax cut in the face of a continuous rise in government spending would lead to a staggering deficit. A deliberately planned deficit of such proportions at this time would be the most inflationary action this administration could take."

ADA Demands Cut

The Americans for Democratic Action today joined the tax cut cry, demanding "a sharp reduction in income tax rates, concentrated in the lower brackets."

The ADA said a cut "has become a matter of immediate urgency to invigorate the national economy."

A U.S. Chamber spokesman opposed proposals for taxing U.S. firms' earnings on foreign investments, part of the administration's tax revision bill.

The chamber spokesman, Washington lawyer Walter Slowinski, complained today before the Senate Finance Committee that the foreign earnings tax proposals "are so drafted as to prevent U.S.-controlled foreign corporations from competing on equal terms with foreign-owned corporations on foreign soil."

In his prepared testimony, Slowinski said the provisions "are hastily drafted, stop-gap measures which leave many serious technical issues unresolved."

Race Is Open

Urger Congress Campaign

In Norwich, David E. Lee, Chenango County Democratic chairman, repeating a view that several county chairmen have expressed, said he felt Stratton "should start soon" to campaign for the congressional nomination in the 35th District.

In a letter to McKeon, Stratton added:

"It so happens that the results of your poll agree completely with the results of four other grass-roots polls already published in various parts of the state, from which I also emerged as the voters' top choice."

He said these polls were in Syracuse and Rochester, and in Rockland and Westchester counties.

No Trend Yet

Stratton asked McKeon to advise him "what steps the state committee plans to take to convert the now clearly expressed wishes of the rank-and-file Democratic voters into the final selection of the convention delegates in September."

McKeon said in a statement he "had hoped by this time that a trend for particular possible Democratic candidates for the various high offices might have materialized," but it had not. He did not mention Stratton.

the present plan of a school on the new site while others in the district, including Supervisor George Majestic (D) of Gardiner sought to defeat the plan, contending that the present Gardiner school site was suitable for expansion at a lower cost to the taxpayers.

Adoption of the bond issue yesterday by the close vote created considerable excitement in the area but since the voting was by machine voters feel there is little opportunity for protest. There had been no indication of a protest, it was stated at the school today.

Patrolmen Favor Pay Raise Over Clothes Allowance

Aldermen attending a meeting of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association Monday night learned that members of the organization are mainly interested in a pay raise rather than a clothing allowance.

The discussion in the court room at city hall was presided over by Patrolman John Crespino, president of KPA. Other officers attending were Thomas Carpino, Frank Stipp and Harry Short.

Among aldermen present were Frank Sass, Frank Koenig, Democrats, and Clark W. Myers, Republican, all members of the common council finance committee.

Other aldermen there were Donald M. Hastings, Arthur Smith, Joseph Tomaszewski, Frank Adams, Democrats, and Harold Kaye, Democratic alderman-at-large.

Joseph Carroll, minority leader of the council, and John Machione, Republicans also attend.

Law Signed by Mayor

On June 14, Mayor John J. Schwenk signed a local law to permit monetary allowance to police and fire department personnel in the purchase of uniforms.

His signature followed a public hearing June 13 at which there was no comment for or against the law.

Polcie board action earlier in the year favored such a measure. The law provided the city may purchase uniforms in whole or part for personnel of the two departments.

The patrolmen feel a pay raise is the best solution.

Alderman Hastings said it is up to the police board about carrying out the local law, "all we can do is vote for transfer of money from one account to another."

He favored a meeting with the board, an arrangement which had been turned down.

"I don't feel any of us can commit ourselves until such a meeting," said Alderman Koenig.

Suggests Referendum

Alderman Sass suggested a referendum and was of the opinion it could be handled through the common council, thus saving an expense that the patrolmen said would be entailed if they followed the procedure of getting signers to put it on the election ballot.

Alderman Carroll was for taking up the matter with the finance committee of the council, especially at budget time to make provision for the matter.

Alderman Machione wanted to hear some of the grievances of the patrolmen "so I can tell the people in my ward. They want to know."

Some Grievances

Here were some mentioned:

Patrolmen are subject to call at any time, and have to work overtime without pay; they are called for grand jury testimony and must spend hours there on their own time; they can't spend time relaxing with ther families because of the call of duty, which is liable to be at any time; patrolmen have to draw on their pension fund to meet bills; it has been over four years since they had a raise (starting salary is $3,640, maximum $5,000); special duty at a parade can call for five hours of work without compensation.

Blue Mountain Woods Fire Is Extinguished

All three units of Centerville Fire Department, two from Centerville station and one pumper from Cedar Grove Firehouse responded early today to a woods fire at Blue Mountain.

Granville Scotty Myers, first driver of Centerville Fire Company said about an acre of pine woods burned off before the blaze was brought under control. Fire officials reported that the blaze started from a camp fire that was not completely extinguished. Centerville Chief Robert Thein was in charge of the units at the scene.

Also reporting at the scene was Aaron Van DeBogart, forest ranger. The alarm was sounded at 12:55 a. m.

GOP Aims

Kennedy administration plan to pare down and streamline the Guard and Reserve system. This was outlined in the key speech, by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Are Unimpressed

The governors listened politely and stingily applauded McNamara's scientifically oriented explanation of why they should give up 295 National Guard units. They were unimpressed with an hour's closed meeting with the secretary.

As Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia put it afterwards, the governors were willing to sit down and reason with McNamara about the matter, but, by the Continental Congress, they were not going to have the federal government cut any local units in their states.

In his prepared text put out in Washington, McNamara had said: "We want no paper tigers in our Reserve structure."

But this line was deleted shortly before he made his talk to the 54th Governors Conference. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

Want Local Control

The Washington threat to the Guard was only one of the issues on which the governors said they want local control of almost everything that concerns the lives of their voters—except, of course, the fat federal aid without which the states could not operate today.

There was even an argument over whether the U.S. Supreme Court could interfere in a state's right to have a prayer said in its public schools. This stemmed from the court's decision that a state-dictated prayer in New York was illegal.

A couple of unlikely companions in this adventure, Govs. Farris Bryant, Florida Democrat, and John H. Ree, Maine Republican, gave birth to a resolution to put the conference on record as regretting the court's decision and urging Congress to amend the Constitution to "make clear and beyond challenge" the nation's traditional faith in God.

At that point came a parliamentary snafu. The conference has a rule that all resolutions must be submitted 30 days in advance. This one hadn't been and Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Idaho Republican, entered a dissent to its consideration.

Smylie and Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Arkansas Democrat, exchanged bitter unpleasantries. Faubus said Smylie had made an "untimely objection" to the resolution.

Smylie replied acidly that he had heard Faubus, a segregation advocate, make some "very untimely objections to some very worthy resolutions which have been before this conference."

The betting was that despite all of the straining there would not be much significance in any civil rights proclamation issued by the conference.

It seemed likely to ring out with considerably less authority than the clang of the Liberty Bell, which will end this conference Wednesday with a speech by President Kennedy in Philadelphia.

On the medicare issue, Republicans and Democrats were so divided it seems possible that the conference may go on record in favor of Social Security financing, but in such broad terms as to be meaningless.

Goldwater Angers

the protests of many Southern delegates.

The group was not received with open arms by the party's congressional leaders, many of whom refused to join it.

They said party policy in Congress could not be bound by actions of an outside group.

Although Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated he thinks the party is becoming "over-organized," the four governors said they had no such fears.

Summer Advice For Pet Owners Issued by SPCA

The Ulster County SPCA today urged all pet owners to be sure that their animals can reach a shady spot and have fresh, clean water several times each day during the hot summer months.

Animals can react to excessive doses of extreme heat much the same as do humans. They can suffer from heat prostration and heat stroke too. Dogs suffering from prolonged exposure to the sun on very hot days can easily be mistaken for a rabid animal.

The SPCA reminds dog owners that a small doghouse can become unbearingly hot and so offer little or no protection to the animal.

Pilot Fined $50 For Ignoring Fire Warning Feb. 20th

WASHINGTON (AP) — Norman C. Seebach, a Mohawk Airlines pilot, has been fined $50 by the completing a, Newark, N.J.-Albany, N.Y., flight despite a fire warning signal immediately after takeoff.

The fire warning signal lasted only a brief period. Seebach, a Cranford, N.J., resident, said he and his flight engineer made several checks and then decided to continue to Albany. The flight was Feb. 20.

The FAA reported that at Albany an inspection showed that heat from the rupture of a cylinder exhaust stack in the right engine had scorched and charred electrical wiring in the plane, a Martin 404.

The agency said Seebach operated the plane carelessly in continuing the flight after the warning signal.

Dangerous Monopoly

Penn RR Leader Sees National System in Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Board Chairman James M. Symes of the Pennsylvania Railroad said today that Eastern railroads "are actually looking down the road to nationalization."

"To my mind that is the most dangerous monopoly of all, a subsidized nationalized railroad system," said Symes in testimony prepared for the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee.

"One railroad, the New Haven, has already gone into bankruptcy and others are close behind," he said, adding:

"A series of bankruptcies could very well cause nationalization of all railroads. Unless railroads in deep trouble are permitted to use consolidations and mergers as self help along lines urged on us for years by the Senate subcommittee on surface transportation, the public is likely to see the very ultimate in monopoly, government ownership and operation."

Symes' road, the Pennsylvania, seeks to merge its operations with the New York Central System.

Symes, opposing a bill by subcommittee chairman Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., to limit the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve such mergers, said Eastern roads could save as much as $200 million in operating costs annually through presently planned mergers.

He insisted they would not deprive the public of service or competition.

A combined Pennsylvania-New York Central system, Symes said, would serve 384 communities of over 10,000 population and all but nine of them have other railroad service.

Governors Take Up Drink Issue On Age Problem

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The nation's governors today take up a resolution proposing they go on record as favoring laws that would not allow anyone under 21 to buy intoxicating liquor.

New York permits the sale of liquor to those who are 18 years old. Officials of surrounding states, where the age limit is 21, have argued that their youngsters go into New York, buy drinks that would be illegal at home, and then may be involved in automobile accidents on their return.

The resolution before the Governors' Conference sides with the states that have been asking New York to raise its age limit.

"Uniform legislation," the resolution says, "is one of the essentials of any successful highway safety program. . .The conference urges that these efforts toward maximum uniformity legislation fixing the minimum age at 21 be especially intensified in respect to laws dealing with the purchase and consumption of beer and liquor by youthful drivers."

Charges Criticism Of Jails Brings About Hostility

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Onondaga County Executive John H. Mulroy, a Republican, charges Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan, a Democrat, has created a "climate of antagonism and hostility" by his criticism of conditions in county jails.

Mulroy advised county employes to refuse to answer any questions from the district attorney's staff unless a county attorney and a stenographer were present.

Ryan is the only Democrat holding elective office in the county government.

Mulroy issued his memorandum Monday after Sheriff Sarto C. Major refused to discuss with Ryan a reported fight in a jail. The fight involved deputies and two inmates of state prisons whom Ryan had brought here to appear before a grand jury looking into conditions at the two county jails, officials said.

Major had this comment on his dispute with Ryan:

"The time has not yet come in this community when the district attorney, riding in the night, can summarily order any private citizen or public official to appear in his office."

The alleged brawl resulted in charges of second-degree assault against the two prisoners—Walter E. Morgan, 19, and Glenn C. Milyon, 17. Both have been serving sentences for burglary. They pleaded innocent to the assault charges.

Deputies said they found a marble slab in the cell occupied by the youths. Morgan and Milyon said they needed it to dry clothes and refused to give it up.

The fight developed when deputies tried to escort one of the prisoners from the cell, the deputies said.

Ryan said he would call Mulroy, Major and other county officials before the grand jury. The jury is investigating charges by Ryan that more than 300 acts of sodomy were committed in the jails in the last year.

Man, 70, Indicted For Death of Rival in Love

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y. (AP)—Joseph Walker, 70, was under indictment today on a charge of first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a 63-year-old man who police said was a rival in a love triangle.

A Warren County grand jury handed up the indictment Monday to Justice Robert G. Main of State Supreme Court. Walker is scheduled for arraignment on the charge next Wednesday.

Police said Walker admitted shooting Dallas Vaughn in the back with a 20-gauge shotgun as Vaughn returned home from work as a night watchman shortly after daybreak May 21.

Both men lived in Warrensburg.

Police said Walker and Vaughn had been rivals for the affections of a 43-year-old woman, who was not identified.

Walker was ordered held in the county jail here.

But Dems Look Worse

Harmony Absent In Both Parties

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy had hardly finished complaining about Democratic disunity when the Republicans ran out of harmony, too.

They talk otherwise but neither party looks overly confident about the November elections. Neither has any particular reason for pride in its record in Congress this year.

Record Is Dismal

The Democrats, as a party, look worse than the Republicans if only because they have such big majorities in Congress they could have put through a substantial legislative program if they stuck together.

They didn't. The record so far is dismal.

Kennedy admitted at his news conference last week it has been a rather sad-sack record for the Democrats in Congress because a number of them have been voting with the Republicans for years.

In a much happier mood former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had 150 Republican leaders to his Gettysburg farm over the weekend and pleaded for party unity.

This get-together received a lot of publicity. But it is questionable it will achieve the unity Eisenhower seems to have in mind. In one case, that of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, it accomplished the opposite.

Goldwater, who has made a career of being a conservative Republican, issued a kind of personal declaration of independence Monday a couple of days ahead of the Fourth of July.

It was at Eisenhower's Republican rally that William E. Miller, the party's national chairman, unveiled his plans for what is called the All-Republican Conference.

Goal Not Clear

This organization is supposed to bring together, periodically, Republican leaders from Congress, state and local governments and private life to consider public issues.

What this could accomplish isn't clear at all because it couldn't hope to set party policy if only because not all Republicans see eye-to-eye, as Goldwater quickly demonstrated.

In a letter to Miller Monday he turned his back on the idea of such a conference group by saying leaders of the group are "the same people who caused most of our party trouble."

He added: "It is unthinkable that they should be given another opportunity to lead us down the path to political destruction."

That wasn't all.

More to Come

Between presidential elections Republican leaders in Congress—like Everett Dirksen of Illinois in the Senate and Charles Halleck of Indiana in the House—seem to regard themselves as the party's leading lights.

Their weekly Ev and Charley television appearance would indicate this although their routine before the cameras is hardly the kind that kindles political fires.

At Gettysburg, neither Dirksen nor Halleck endorsed Miller's idea for an All-Republican Conference where Republicans, who are not in Congress, might try to tell them what to do.

Dirksen said that while he favors party unity "different people have different ways to arrive at unity."

The evidence of disunity in both parties has somewhat the same effect as telling a grown man there isn't any Santa Claus because it demonstrates what is apparent to anyone not living in a political dream world:

No Single Views

The Democrats and Republicans, despite the party platforms they manufacture for election purposes every four years, are not solid, single and separate parties voting straight party lines except on rare occasions.

Since both are made up of liberals, reactionaries and a broad band of conservatives, the idea that either party represents a single view is one of the hard-dying American myths.

Silent Prayer Favored By Dutchess Educator

A Dutches County school official says it is his personal belief that a minute should be set aside each school day in which pupils could bow their heads and say a silent prayer if they so desired.

That comment came from Harold C. Storm, retiring superintendent of the Arlington Central School district after he learned the Board of Education at Hicksville, L. I., decided to adopt a passage from the fourth stanza of the "Star Spangled Banner," to substitute for an official school prayer banned by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Wants GOP Chairman To Call More Meetings

Secretary of the Dutchess County Republican committee, Dr. John F. Rogers, Poughkeepsie, contends that he believes County Republican Chairman Robert J. Blinn, Amenia, should call more frequent sessions of the executive committee of the party.

Dr. Rogers, secretary of the committee since 1947, said the executive committee under chairmanship of Blinn has not been convened more than twice a year, or prior to the annual candidate designation and organization meetings.

Rogers noted that former County Chairman James T. Aspbury, town of Washington, and the late Frederick H. Bontecou called more frequent meetings.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first U.S. president to ride in an automobile and also the first to ride in an airplane.

Dangerous Monopoly

Penn RR Leader Sees National System in Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Board Chairman James M. Symes of the Pennsylvania Railroad said today that Eastern railroads "are actually looking down the road to nationalization."

"To my mind that is the most dangerous monopoly of all, a subsidized nationalized railroad system," said Symes in testimony prepared for the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee.

"One railroad, the New Haven, has already gone into bankruptcy and others are close behind," he said, adding:

"A series of bankruptcies could very well cause nationalization of all railroads. Unless railroads in deep trouble are permitted to use consolidations and mergers as self help along lines urged on us for years by the Senate subcommittee on surface transportation, the public is likely to see the very ultimate in monopoly, government ownership and operation."

Symes' road, the Pennsylvania, seeks to merge its operations with the New York Central System.

Symes, opposing a bill by subcommittee chairman Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., to limit the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve such mergers, said Eastern roads could save as much as $200 million in operating costs annually through presently planned mergers.

He insisted they would not deprive the public of service or competition.

A combined Pennsylvania-New York Central system, Symes said, would serve 384 communities of over 10,000 population and all but nine of them have other railroad service.

Governors Take Up Drink Issue On Age Problem

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The nation's governors today take up a resolution proposing they go on record as favoring laws that would not allow anyone under 21 to buy intoxicating liquor.

New York permits the sale of liquor to those who are 18 years old. Officials of surrounding states, where the age limit is 21, have argued that their youngsters go into New York, buy drinks that would be illegal at home, and then may be involved in automobile accidents on their return.

The resolution before the Governors' Conference sides with the states that have been asking New York to raise its age limit.

"Uniform legislation," the resolution says, "is one of the essentials of any successful highway safety program. . .The conference urges that these efforts toward maximum uniformity legislation fixing the minimum age at 21 be especially intensified in respect to laws dealing with the purchase and consumption of beer and liquor by youthful drivers."

OUR BANNER BRIGHT

This is the day when the flags break out—or ought to—in front of the houses that line the streets of suburbia.

There will be the usual share of those who tack the flag to their porches with the field on the wrong side, but most people have some idea of flag protocol.

They will be sure to take it down at sunset and, though they may not know just how to fold it correctly, will take pains to see that it does not touch the ground.

But should anyone forget to take down the flag at sunset, he need not feel himself guilty of an unpardonable insult. Although the flag is customarily furled at night and in stormy weather, any citizen may fly and display it at any time, if it is done properly and respectfully.

Indeed, there are a number of places in the United States where the flag flies 24 hours a day. Here are a few of them:

First and foremost is Fort McHenry in Baltimore, at the spot on the parade ground where flew the banner seen by Francis Scott Key during the British bombardment in the War of 1812. A present-day flag still gives "proof through the night."

Fittingly, the Star-Spangled Banner is perpetually raised above Key's grave in Frederick, Md.

At Flag House Square in Baltimore, at what was the home of Mary Young Pickersgill. It was she who made the huge 15-star, 15-stripe flag which inspired Key.

At the grave of Betsy Ross in Mount Moriah Cemetery in Philadelphia.

At the White House in Washington, and over the two wings of the Capitol when Congress is in session.

At the War Memorial in Worcester, Mass., since 1933.

Taos, N. M., where the flag has been aloft since July, 1861.

This last instance has an interesting history:

The Civil War was only a few months old when Confederate sympathizers smashed the town's flagpole and hauled down the Union flag. One Capt. Smith Simpson refused to stand for that. He cut down a tall cottonwood tree, trimmed it and dragged it to the center of town where he nailed his own flag to it.

Three other men, among them Kit Carson, helped him lift the pole into position. They then proceeded to guard it day and night. With no rope or pulley, the flag could not be lowered at night. Army authorities in Santa Fe praised the patriotic action and agreed that it be kept flying around the clock.

After Simpson's death, his daughter carried on the tradition, regularly replacing torn and weather-beaten flags. Today, there is a steel pole instead of a cottonwood tree and the Taos Kiwanis Club has responsibility for maintaining the flags.

May Old Glory continue to wave at all these places—but more importantly, in the hearts of all who love her.

THE NUMBERS GAME

Are names going to be replaced by numbers? It looks like it. Houses used to be designated not by number but by name, as "The Gables, East Orange-on-the-Hudson, New York." Now a city dweller is apt to have an address such as 1234 E. 49th Street, the street now being numbered instead of having a name.

Locomotives once were named, but have long since been known by numbers. Ships still have names, yet even that may change: submarines already are given numbers in some instances.

Now telephone exchanges, hitherto named, are gradually being designated by numbers. This has vexed William G. Paddock of Scarsdale, N. Y., who has formed a "Committee of One for the Preservation of the Individual Dignity of Man." He resents being known only by number in many business places, even his car wash. Now he objects to losing the individuality of his telephone exchange. Soon, perhaps, his business card will present him as "No. 5 of 2286 71st Street." He doesn't like the idea.

Paddock might strengthen his campaign against the new procedure by citing the length of the new numbers. In one case that has come to our attention, calling a friend in a village 12 miles away involves dialing no less than 14 numbers. Few could do this often without making a mistake. The very multiplicity of numbers may yet send us back to names.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE PEOPLE OF THE BOOK

Were those who objected to an undenominational prayer in tax-supported schools, worshiping Jews, they would know a beautiful prayer, entitled "Aleinu" which begins with this stanza:

"It is for us to praise the Lord of all,
To acclaim the greatness of the God of creation,
Who has not made us as wordly nations,
Nor set us up as earthly peoples,
Not making our portion as theirs,
Nor our destiny as that of their multitudes.
For we bow in worship before the supreme King of kings,
The Holy One, blessed be He."

Truly those who live in ignorance of their past, dwell in darkness. Anson Phelps Stokes in his magnificent study, "Church and State in the United States," speaks of the early days of this country:

"The citizens of the emerging United States were virtually all Christian men who differed much in matters of Church membership and loyalty, and in theological belief, and even, especially in the middle colonies, in national background, but they were one in their realization that God was their Father and that they were his children, and that there was in all of them a spark of the divine life which made them capable of great things if they would live worthy of their birthright."

All the leading men of the Revolution were religious men and most were church affiliated. Benjamin Franklin, for instance, said:

"I never was without some religious principles." He laid down his own concepts:

"That there is one God, who made all things.

That He governs the world by his providence.

That He ought to be worshipped by adoration, prayer, and thanksgiving.

But that the most acceptable service of God is doing good to man.

That the soul is immortal.

In his "Rights of Man," Thomas Paine wrote:

"Man worships not himself, but his Maker; and the liberty of conscience which he claims is not for the service of himself, but of his God."

One can go through American history, quoting leader after leader, but what I prefer to quote is one of the greatest religious statements of any period, namely, Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1863:

"Wheras it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord; . . .

". . . We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virture of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too selfsufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

The people of the United States have throughout their history devoted themselves to prayer, in the home, in the school, at the opening of public meetings, at the opening of each session of the Supreme Court and at each day of Congress.

Why is prayer abolished in 1962? Why is God denied in 1962? Why is agnosticism and atheism encouraged in 1962?

It is essential that the Supreme Court be heeded or our way of government must be altered. Must we then choose between God and Caesar? No man need face such a dilemma. No child needs to be told that he may no longer pray to God whose creative powers still prevail in a world that man has muddled. There can be no law against praying in silence. Let every child be given a card by his parents or clergyman and when the schoolday opens, let him pray in silence and let him add to his prayer the words, "And may God bless the United States Supreme Court with sanity."

Blood Types Are Common In All Humanity

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Q—My wife just returned from our local hospital where she suffered a severe hemorrhage following birth of our first child. After the first of several transfusions, she had a severe chill and a very high temperature. From one of her nurses I learned that the blood donor for this transfusion was of a different race. Is there any danger in mixing bloods?

A—There are many factors that cause reactions during and following human blood transfusions. None of these, I assure you, is related to skin pigment. The Red Cross makes no racial distinction at its blood banks.

The most frequent cause for a reaction such as your wife suffered is a mismatch of blood types. There are, as you may know, four principal blood types, and several subtypes. These types and subtypes hold for people of all races and nationalities.

A second cause for transfusion reactions is the presence of some impurity in the tubing or glassware. And a third known cause is too rapid injection, a condition first described by me as "speed shock."

Q—I have just returned from Hawaii, where I developed a rash after swimming. The rash was itchy and red and later became blistery. Have you any idea what might have caused the rash and how I can avoid it? I enjoyed my vacation in all other respects, and would like to return again next time I have a holiday.

A—Col. Grauer of the Tripler Army Hospital has just reported the appearance of just such an eruption as you describe from sensitivity to microscopic organisms that are present in seaweed. The eruption occurs only from June to September.

Consequently if you plan to revisit Hawaii during other months of the year, perhaps at Easter and Christmas times, you should have no difficulty.

And, if you go when the algae are in the seaweed on the windward side of the islands, make sure that you swim on the leeward side.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When the United States Supreme Court goes into session, the clerk cries out: Oyez, Oyez! (Hear Ye, Hear Ye!) The Supreme Court of the United States is now in session. God save the United States and this honorable court."

This is considered a prayer. It is not prescribed by law. But it is by custom, which is expected to endure.

This is something to remember in connection with the Supreme Court's decision at the closing session of the term, declaring that the recitation of a prayer prescribed by New York's state board of regents for use in public schools violates the U. S. Constitution.

First popular reaction to this decision has been shock and a storm of protest, based on an apparent belief that the Supreme Court is trying to abolish prayer and perhaps destroy religion.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAWYERS in Washington point out that this is a misunderstanding of the decision.

Their contention is that the Supreme Court has acted in this case in an extremely narrow field. It is not a broad, sweeping decision. It is limited only to a finding that a prescribed prayer violates constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

As hypothetical cases of religious freedom not coverd by the court's decision, these examples are cited in admittedly unofficial but authoritative interpretations:

The decision will have no effect on prayers offered in parochial or private schools.

If a teacher in a public school asks her pupils to bow their heads while the teacher offers a prayer of her own, that will violate no law or court decision.

If the parents of some of the pupils object to any specific prayers the teacher may offer, that is a local problem for settlement between them and the teacher or her superiors. That's the way it always has been.

Or, if a teacher in a public school asks her class to stand for a moment of silent prayer, each pupil reciting his own or none at all, there is certainly nothing the law can do to enforce the Supreme Court's latest decision.

THE ARGUMENT made here is that this is not an enforceable decision. No U. S. marshals are going to come around and arrest teachers for offering prayers, for reading a psalm or a chapter from the Bible.

What concerns constitutional lawyers most in the broad interpretation many people have put upon the really narrow New York school prayer decision is that it will react unfavorably against the Supreme Court itself.

The Supreme Court is already under attack because of its school integration, reapportionment and some of its civil liberties case decisions. A new attack, based on misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the court's decision may make it more unpopular and weaken its prestige.

THE SUPREME COURT has not struck a blow against all religion or religious education in this decision, it is maintained. Lawyers who have practiced before the court for years and know the justices intimately testify they are all religious men, active in their respective churches.

They are not atheists trying to destroy religion. They realize that law in America is based on religion.

As Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Assn. and a leader in the "World Rule Through Law" movement brought out in a "Law and Religion" address on Law Day last year—which happened to fall on a Sunday—the entire history of the United States is based on belief in God.

QUEEN ELIZABETH'S charter to Sir Walter Raliegh to found the Jamestown colony in 1606 was given "By Grace of God" and the Mayflower Compact of 1620 was for "The Glory of God." The Declaration of Independence closes with a statement of "firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence." The Founding Fathers of the country opened their daily deliberations with prayer.

The Constitution itself, while specifying that "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion," and that no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States," still guarantees in the First Amendment that there shall be no "prohibiting the free exercise" of religion. This is indestructible.

Question of Tax Reform: Business Help or Hurdle?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

The word "incentive" is frequently used to describe the impulse that makes the private-enterprise system work more effectively than does any form of state socialism or communism.

Again and again, however, critics of current governmental policies are saying that governmental intervention is excessive, and that often the government's share of the earnings of a private company amounts almost to confiscation.

But more important than all this is whether the existing practices will or will not stimulate an expansion of the national economy. Inasmuch as Congress is considering various kinds of "tax reform"—mostly to increase governmental revenues—the important point that emerges is whether "tax reform" is going to throttle or stimulate the American economic system.

Most people who talk glibly about "big business" or even "little business" as somehow greedy, selfish and inconsiderate of their employees do not realize how much of a risk the creators of a business enterprise run and how they are discouraged sometimes from even starting a business because the risk isn't worth the small return that is likely to be obtained these days.

Perhaps the most striking example of what is meant by "incentive"—or lack of it—is given in an illustration recently developed by some economists to show how a business man can build a successful enterprise only to find that the bulk of his earnings is going to the government. The basic assumptions are that a man starts a small company which develops annual sales of $2 million, and that the corporation pays him $25,000 a year and pays to 100 other employes a total of $500 000 a year in wages.

But what does government take from this corporation?

First of all, $30,000 in state and local levies, excises and other taxes have to be paid.

Second, the government takes $15,000 in Social Security taxes, and this is assumed to leave the company with approximately $100,000 profit before Federal income taxes.

Tax After Tax

Third, the government takes $46,500 out of the profits for Federal corporate income taxes. This brings the net profit down to $53,500, and it is assumed that the sole owner of the corporation puts 20 per cent of this—or $10,700—into new equipment and takes the remaining 80 per cent—or $42,800—as dividends for himself.

Fourth, the government then takes $28,500 from the owner in the form of personal taxes on his total income of $67,800 in salary and dividends.

Fifth, the government takes from the employees of the corporation $57,000 in personal taxes on their pay.

When all this is added up, it is found that the corporation owner has realized $39,300 in net income, while government in all its forms has realized $177,000. To put it another way, for every dollar that this business man gets in income, government— Federal, state and local —gets more than $4.50.

Now, in the above illustration, it happens that one man is the owner of the company. But it is unlikely that a single individual would always be able to supply the money to build a corporation that would have annual sales of $2 million. The chances are that the promoter of the enterprise would have to get other people to share the financing with him, and they would naturally become part owners. In that case, of course, the entire $42,800 of dividends would not be paid to him, but perhaps only a small part of it.

What it amounts to, in the end, is that the individual has to make up his mind whether he will take a job that pays him $25,000 or more in some other enterprise—perhaps one of those "big business" corporations—or whether he will go out on his own, invest personal funds and money borrowed from others willing to help him, and take the big risks that are involved in the actual operation of a business.

In the final analysis, the risk is considerable. There is competition to be met plus the danger of unlooked-for-conditions which could wipe out the business or render it unable to make a substantial profit.

How many people in the United States would be willing to take the risk of accepting a salary of perhaps $25,000 each year in a business that they have to own and operate themselves, as distinguished from being paid a salary of that amount in a business in which somebody else takes all the risk? The answer is that the larger businesses are today absorbing more and more of the men of talent, ingenuity and enterprise in America.

Sooner or later the "private sector" in the economy will have to be assisted by a governmental stimulus in the form of lower taxation.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

A young man came in for information on his "Ulster County Gazette" which I am afraid he thought maybe a rare copy. It seems to me he brought his slightly ragged copy carefully in a portfolio all the way from New York to find out about it in Kingston, N. Y. In a case like that I bring out the illustrated book that R.W.G. Vail put out for the New York Public Library in 1951 called "The Ulster County Gazette" in that we found his copy on page 33.

Knowing that many have copies of the Jan. 4, 1800, Ulster County Gazette and each time a group or copy has been made, some changes also have been made.

This was a copy which I had never seen as it had on the front page, along the margin in old English type "Gen. Geo. Washington's death, and funeral of our first President, 1800." It seems the text was also entirely rearranged with the Washington material moved to page one and even the portrait of Washington inserted on page one. It also has printed in two lines of small type at left end of imprint line the statement "Copyright by—Back Number Budd, 1280 Broadway, N. Y." Mr. Vail feels that this edition may have been issued in 1889, in which year he published a reprint of the "Gazette of the United States," New York, May 2, 1789. On the otherhand it may have appeared in 1894-1895, the only years in which the publisher (a dealer in back number newspapers) appears in the New York City directory with a Broadway address. The paper was dark, and I would say of the wood pulp paper kind that does not stand up under time. I first took it to be around 1860 or so. A real old paper is soft like an old handkerchief and can be folded without breaking. It will tear rather than break, I would say, because of the high rag contents.

Another item which was brought to me by a Kingstonian was a quart glass milk bottle which someone had found. On it was printed "Glenhurst Stock Farm Dairy, H. R. Brigham, prop. Kingston, New York." Also in the back, "Registered-bottle unlawful for others to use." I found in the Kingston City Directory, the following, "Henry R. Brigham, (Brigham Bros.,) prop. Glenhurst Dairy, 707 Broadway." The home, and I take it, the Glenhurst Dairy, can be seen in the 1875 Ulster County Atlas pictures. I do not find the information always in the books I have in which case there is always the Senate House Museum library uptown and the Kingston City Library and their staff, to ask.

From time to time I see "The Log of Mystic Seaport" from the Marine Historical Association, Inc. of Mystic, Conn. I have before me the spring 1962 issue. It is full of pictures and information and it makes me sad that our Kingston Point Beach and Park have not gone along these lines. Think of the good publicity and the visitors it would bring to Kingston. Anyway one article in this booklet called "Seafarers and Medicine" with its illustration of an old medicine chest interested me. It seems that the medicines were in numbered bottles, although the pictures of the bottles are not given. Mystic Museum will have in its new doctor's office and apothecary shop excellent samples of these little chests, beautifully constructed by cabinet makers, with compartments for bottles, drawers for instruments and even little secret panel compartments, for perhaps laudanum and chloroform. Sulphur, quinine, syrup of squills, calomel, Epsom salts, ipecac, plasters were used in those days and not so long ago, popular right here in our own Kingston drug stores.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 3, 1962

There will be no issue of The Kingston Daily Freeman Wednesday, July 4, in observance of Independence Day.

OUR BANNER BRIGHT

This is the day when the flags break out —or ought to—in front of the houses that line the streets of suburbia.

There will be the usual share of those who tack the flag to their porches with the field on the wrong side, but most people have some idea of flag protocol.

They will be sure to take it down at sunset and, though they may not know just how to fold it correctly, will take pains to see that it does not touch the ground.

But should anyone forget to take down the flag at sunset, he need not feel himself guilty of an unpardonable insult. Although the flag is customarily furled at night and in stormy weather, any citizen may fly and display it at any time, if it is done properly and respectfully.

Indeed, there are a number of places in the United States where the flag flies 24 hours a day. Here are a few of them:

First and foremost is Fort McHenry in Baltimore, at the spot on the parade ground where flew the banner seen by Francis Scott Key during the British bombardment in the War of 1812. A present-day flag still gives "proof through the night."

Fittingly, the Star-Spangled Banner is perpetually raised above Key's grave in Frederick, Md.

At Flag House Square in Baltimore, at what was the home of Mary Young Pickersgill. It was she who made the huge 15-star, 15-stripe flag which inspired Key.

At the grave of Betsy Ross in Mount Moriah Cemetery in Philadelphia.

At the White House in Washington, and over the two wings of the Capitol when Congress is in session.

At the War Memorial in Worcester, Mass., since 1933.

Taos, N. M., where the flag has been aloft since July, 1861.

This last instance has an interesting history:

The Civil War was only a few months old when Confederate sympathizers smashed the town's flagpole and hauled down the Union flag. One Capt. Smith Simpson refused to stand for that. He cut down a tall cottonwood tree, trimmed it and dragged it to the center of town where he nailed his own flag to it.

Three other men, among them Kit Carson, helped him lift the pole into position. They then proceeded to guard it day and night. With no rope or pulley, the flag could not be lowered at night. Army authorities in Santa Fe praised the patriotic action and agreed that it be kept flying around the clock.

After Simpson's death, his daughter carried on the tradition, regularly replacing torn and weather-beaten flags. Today, there is a steel pole instead of a cottonwood tree and the Taos Kiwanis Club has responsibility for maintaining the flags.

May Old Glory continue to wave at all these places—but more importantly, in the hearts of all who love her.

THE NUMBERS GAME

Are names going to be replaced by numbers? It looks like it. Houses used to be designated not by number but by name, as "The Gables, East Orange-on-the-Hudson, New York." Now a city dweller is apt to have an address such as 1234 E. 49th Street, the street now being numbered instead of having a name.

Locomotives once were named, but have long since been known by numbers. Ships still have names, yet even that may change: submarines already are given numbers in some instances.

Now telephone exchanges, hitherto named, are gradually being designated by numbers. This has vexed William G. Paddock of Scarsdale, N. Y., who has formed a "Committee of One for the Preservation of the Individual Dignity of Man." He resents being known only by number in many business places, even his car wash. Now he objects to losing the individuality of his telephone exchange. Soon, perhaps, his business card will present him as "No. 5 of 2286 71st Street." He doesn't like the idea.

Paddock might strengthen his campaign against the new procedure by citing the length of the new numbers. In one case that has come to our attention, calling a friend in a village 12 miles away involves dialing no less than 14 numbers. Few could do this often without making a mistake. The very multiplicity of numbers may yet send us back to names.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE PEOPLE OF THE BOOK

Were those who objected to an undenominational prayer in tax-supported schools, worshiping Jews, they would know a beautiful prayer, entitled "Aleinu" which begins with this stanza:

"It is for us to praise the Lord of all,
To acclaim the greatness of the God of creation,
Who has not made us as wordly nations,
Nor set us up as earthly peoples,
Not making our portion as theirs,
Nor our destiny as that of their multitudes.
For we bow in worship before the supreme King of kings,
The Holy One, blessed be He."

Truly those who live in ignorance of their past, dwell in darkness. Anson Phelps Stokes in his magnificent study, "Church and State in the United States," speaks of the early days of this country:

"The citizens of the emerging United States were virtually all Christian men who differed much in matters of Church membership and loyalty, and in theological belief, and even, especially in the middle colonies, in national background, but they were one in their realization that God was their Father and that they were his children, and that there was in all of them a spark of the divine life which made them capable of great things if they would live worthy of their birthright."

All the leading men of the Revolution were religious men and most were church affiliated. Benjamin Franklin, for instance, said:

"I never was without some religious principles." He laid down his own concepts:

"That there is one God, who made all things.
That He governs the world by his providence.
That He ought to be worshipped by adoration, prayer, and thanksgiving.
But that the most acceptable service of God is doing good to man.
That the soul is immortal.

In his "Rights of Man," Thomas Paine wrote:

"Man worships not himself, but his Maker; and the liberty of conscience which he claims is not for the service of himself, but of his God."

One can go through American history, quoting leader after leader, but what I prefer to quote is one of the greatest religious statements of any period, namely, Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1863:

"Wheras it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord; . . .

Question of Tax Reform: Business Help or Hurdle?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

The word "incentive" is frequently used to describe the impulse that makes the private-enterprise system work more effectively than does any form of state socialism or communism.

Again and again, however, critics of current governmental policies are saying that governmental intervention is excessive, and that often the government's share of the earnings of a private company amounts almost to confiscation.

But more important than all this is whether the existing practices will or will not stimulate an expansion of the national economy. Inasmuch as Congress is considering various kinds of "tax reform"—mostly to increase governmental revenues—the important point that emerges is whether "tax reform" is going to throttle or stimulate the American economic system.

Most people who talk glibly about "big business" or even "little business" as somehow greedy, selfish and inconsiderate of their employees do not realize how much of a risk the creators of a business enterprise run and how they are discouraged sometimes from even starting a business because the risk isn't worth the small return that is likely to be obtained these days.

Perhaps the most striking example of what is meant by "incentive"—or lack of it—is given in an illustration recently developed by some economists to show how a business man can build a successful enterprise only to find that the bulk of his earnings is going to the government. The basic assumptions are that a man starts a small company which develops annual sales of $2 million, and that the corporation pays him $25,000 a year and pays to 100 other employes a total of $500 000 a year in wages.

But what does government take from this corporation?

First of all, $30,000 in state and local levies, excises and other taxes have to be paid.

Second, the government takes $15,000 in Social Security taxes, and this is assumed to leave the company with approximately $100,000 profit before Federal income taxes.

Tax After Tax

Third, the government takes $46,500 out of the profits for Federal corporate income taxes. This brings the net profit down to $53,500, and it is assumed that the sole owner of the corporation puts 20 per cent of this—or $10,700—into new equipment and takes the remaining 80 per cent—or $42,800—as dividends for himself.

Fourth, the government then takes $28,500 from the owner in the form of personal taxes on his total income of $67,800 in salary and dividends.

Fifth, the government takes from the employees of the corporation $57,000 in personal taxes on their pay.

When all this is added up, it is found that the corporation owner has realized $39,300 in net income, while government in all its forms has realized $177,000. To put it another way, for every dollar that this business man gets in income, government— Federal, state and local —gets more than $4.50.

Now, in the above illustration, it happens that one man is the owner of the company. But it is unlikely that a single individual would always be able to supply the money to build a corporation that would have annual sales of $2 million. The chances are that the promoter of the enterprise would have to get other people to share the financing with him, and they would naturally become part owners. In that case, of course, the entire $42,800 of dividends would not be paid to him, but perhaps only a small part of it.

What it amounts to, in the end, is that the individual has to make up his mind whether he will take a job that pays him $25,000 or more in some other enterprise—perhaps one of those "big business" corporations—or whether he will go out on his own, invest personal funds and money borrowed from others willing to help him, and take the big risks that are involved in the actual operation of a business.

In the final analysis, the risk is considerable. There is competition to be met plus the danger of unlooked-for-conditions which could wipe out the business or render it unable to make a substantial profit.

How many people in the United States would be willing to take the risk of accepting a salary of perhaps $25,000 each year in a business that they have to own and operate themselves, as distinguished from being paid a salary of that amount in a business in which somebody else takes all the risk? The answer is that the larger businesses are today absorbing more and more of the men of talent, ingenuity and enterprise in America.

Sooner or later the "private sector" in the economy will have to be assisted by a governmental stimulus in the form of lower taxation.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

A young man came in for information on his "Ulster County Gazette" which I am afraid he thought maybe a rare copy. It seems to me he brought his slightly ragged copy carefully in a portfolio all the way from New York to find out about it in Kingston, N. Y. In a case like that I bring out the illustrated book that R.W.G. Vail put out for the New York Public Library in 1951 called "The Ulster County Gazette" in that we found his copy on page 33.

Knowing that many have copies of the Jan. 4, 1800, Ulster County Gazette and each time a group or copy has been made, some changes also have been made.

This was a copy which I had never seen as it had on the front page, along the margin in old English type "Gen. Geo. Washington's death, and funeral of our first President, 1800." It seems the text was also entirely rearranged with the Washington material moved to page one and even the portrait of Washington inserted on page one. It also has printed in two lines of small type at left end of imprint line the statement "Copyright by—Back Number Budd, 1280 Broadway, N. Y." Mr. Vail feels that this edition may have been issued in 1889, in which year he published a reprint of the "Gazette of the United States," New York, May 2, 1789. On the otherhand it may have appeared in 1894-1895, the only years in which the publisher (a dealer in back number newspapers) appears in the New York City directory with a Broadway address. The paper was dark, and I would say of the wood pulp paper kind that does not stand up under time. I first took it to be around 1860 or so. A real old paper is soft like an old handkerchief and can be folded without breaking. It will tear rather than break, I would say, because of the high rag contents.

Another item which was brought to me by a Kingstonian was a quart glass milk bottle which someone had found. On it was printed "Glenhurst Stock Farm Dairy, H. R. Brigham, prop. Kingston, New York." Also in the back, "Registered-bottle unlawful for others to use." I found in the Kingston City Directory, the following, "Henry R. Brigham, (Brigham Bros.,) prop. Glenhurst Dairy, 707 Broadway." The home, and I take it, the Glenhurst Dairy, can be seen in the 1875 Ulster County Atlas pictures. I do not find the information always in the books I have in which case there is always the Senate House Museum library uptown and the Kingston City Library and their staff, to ask.

From time to time I see "The Log of Mystic Seaport" from the Marine Historical Association, Inc. of Mystic, Conn. I have before me the spring 1962 issue. It is full of pictures and information and it makes me sad that our Kingston Point Beach and Park have not gone along these lines. Think of the good publicity and the visitors it would bring to Kingston. Anyway one article in this booklet called "Seafarers and Medicine" with its illustration of an old medicine chest interested me. It seems that the medicines were in numbered bottles, although the pictures of the bottles are not given. Mystic Museum will have in its new doctor's office and apothecary shop excellent samples of these little chests, beautifully constructed by cabinet makers, with compartments for bottles, drawers for instruments and even little secret panel compartments, for perhaps laudanum and chloroform. Sulphur, quinine, syrup of squills, calomel, Epsom salts, ipecac, plasters were used in those days and not so long ago, popular right here in our own Kingston drug stores.

So They Say..

This is one of the funniest things that ever happened to me. This is silly. I buy my suits right off the rack and my wife keeps telling me they are out of style.

Dutchess Democrats Talk County Ticket

Dutchess County Democrats have been asked to consider Herbert G. Wittels, Town of East Fishkill industrialist, as candidate to run for Assemblyman in the November election.

Wittels took a leading part in persuading IBM to locate a Components Parts Plant in the Town of East Fishkill. His name was submitted to the Dutchess County Democratic Committee executive committee by Town of East Fishkill Democrats.

Henry Kennelly, former mayor of Beacon, has been mentioned in Dutchess political circles, as a candidate for county treasurer on the Democratic ticket. Kennelly is an assistant cashier at the Matteawan National Bank of Beacon.

Supervisor Thomas D. Mahar of the Town of Poughkeepsie, and Vincent di Gennaro, Poughkeepsie attorney, and former official referee in Workmen's Compensation Court for this district, also have been mentioned as possible candidates for Assemblyman on the Democratic ticket.

Local Firemen Congratulated For Efficiency

Kingston firemen have been congratulated by Anthony G. Saccoman of 18 West Chestnut Street for their efficient work in extinguishing a fire last Thursday evening at the premises of former City Judge Aaron E. Klein. The fire was in the coach house on the premises of judge.

The fire was confined to that building, but the area was threatened by flying sparks.

In a letter to Fire Chief James M. Brett, Mr. Saccoman expressed his "sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks" to Chief Brett and the personnel of the Kingston City Fire Department "for literally saving our home from destruction."

Damage to the roof of the Saccoman home was limited to the charring of shingles which Saccoman says "would surely have grown to a wholesale conflagration had it not been for the usual prompt and efficient action of our Kingston firemen. We commend them most highly."

Joint Conclave Seeks to Further Churches' Unity

The first joint committee meeting of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and the Reformed Church in America was held Friday at Hope College, Holland, Mich.

The highest judicial body of each of the two denominations meeting in May and June this year, voted without dissent to authorize the joint committee to proceed "to seek together a fuller expression of unity in faith and action." A "Joint Resolution" approved by the General Synod of the Reformed Church and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., declared that "trusting the Holy Spirit, we reaffirm our readiness to be led into whatever forms of church life and work are revealed as God's will for us."

The two denominations have agreed "to study and explore together certain areas of common concern." The joint committee, which consists of 12 members from each denomination, agreed to arrange for ways by which the membership of the two denominations may get to know each other better. This appeared to be a first step toward exploring areas of common concern, because while the Presbyterian Church, U. S., has congregations distributed among all the southern states, the congregations of the Reformed Church in America are almost all in the northern states.

The Presbyterian Church, U. S., has a total of 917,432 communicant members in 3,998 congregations while the Reformed Church in America has a total of 230,210 communicant members in 907 congregations.

The joint committee voted to hold its next meeting in Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 27-28.

GAO Reports on Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auditors have reported that private firms selling cotton as agents of the government bought some for themselves for resale at higher prices.

The questioned transactions, accurring between mid-1959 and April 30, 1961, amounted to more than $400 million, the General Accounting Office informed Congress.

The GAO report, submitted Monday, recommended that the Agriculture Department seek to recover deficiencies where the private sales agencies sold cotton to themselves at less than fair value.

Strike Settled

No Ice Cream Shortage July 4

NEW YORK (AP)—Settlement of a nine-week ice cream industry strike in the metropolitan area was reached early today after a marathon negotiating session, a city mediator announced.

The strike began May 2 when Local 757 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters walked out of a large Brooklyn plant. Eleven other major manufacturers then closed their plants to prevent what the employes called "fragmentizing" the industry. Teamster Locals 680 in Newark and 338 in Westchester County then joined the dispute.

The unions were attempting to obtain increased job security. They said jobs were being endangered by expanding automation. The 12 plants employ a total of 2,500 Teamster drivers and production workers.

Sugar Bill Goes To White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a sugar extension bill and sent it to President Kennedy for signing. But the administration hurriedly sought to modify it to soothe several outraged Latin-American nations who feel they were being short-changed.

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure Monday night, voting 54-12 approval after lengthy debate.

Immediately Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana moved to alter the protested provisions by offering an amendment to a minor bill already passed by the House.

The amendment would provide an additional allotment of premium-price sugar for Western Hemisphere nations.

Several of them—notably Argentina and the Dominican Republic—have complained they were badly treated under the extension legislation. They feared the bill would sharply reduce the amount of sugar they could export to the United States at premium prices.

Mansfield was not able to get an immediate vote on his proposal, however, because some senators wanted to make other charges. He finally decided to put the vote over to Thursda since many members were to be absent today.

The extension bill increases the domestic growers' share of the U.S. sugar market and gives the President some flexibility in disposing of 1.64 million tons reserved for Cuba if that country installs a democratic government. These purchases could be at the world price.

Over administration objections, 1.2 million tons were awarded as permanent quotas to 23 designated countries.

Ousted Minister 'Stunned' That Dismissal Stands

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Dr. Stuart Hamilton Merriam said today he was "absolutely stunned" by a decision of a judicial commission that upheld his ouster as minister of a New York City Presbyterian Church.

"A grave injustice has been done," he declared. "I blush for the Presbyterian Church."

The Permanent Judicial Commission of the New York State Synod of the United Presbyterian Church voted unanimously late Monday to dismiss Dr. Merriam's complaints against the New York Presbytery's removing him from the pulpit of the Broadway Presbyterian Church. It also upheld removal of the 10 elders of the church.

The commission said it found the case "wholly administrative in nature," and a spokesman said the decision was based on "largely procedural" grounds.

The commission determined only that the Presbytery had the power to act as it did, and that it acted in accordance with due process, the spokesman said.

"We have no right to substitute our judgment for that of the Presbytery" on matters of substance, he added.

In a statement, the commission said its decision "affirms the authority of the Presbytery over its churches and ministers in accord with the constitutional character of the United Pesbyterian Church in the United States of America."

The New York Presbytery voted May 7 to remove Dr. Merriam and the elders of the church on grounds that his theology was too conservative for the area he served and that his methods of preaching were unorthodox.

'Paris in Woodstock' Theme Planned in St. Gregory Bazaar

"Paris in Woodstock" is the theme of the all-day bazaar planned by the women of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, on Saturday, July 14. The bazaar starts at 9 a. m. and closes at 5 p. m. and promises to be a gala affair, offering many extra and appealing attractions.

Gay booths will display the works of many hands, including knitted, crocheted and sewn articles for infants, in-betweens and adults. A jewelry booth will offer enticing costume jewelry, with perhaps something genuine thrown in.

Christmas decorations for door, table or mantle will be for sale and a flower table will feature both cut and potted plants. High on the list of attractions is the food booth, featuring the specialties for which St. Gregory's is known — cakes, pies, cookies, luncheon or dinner casseroles and salads, a wonderful way to cut down on Sunday cooking.

A flea market will offer tempting bargains in china, glass, bric-a-brac and what-have you's. The Cathedral booth will have beautiful religious articles and books from the exhibit hall of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York.

In French Style

Luncheon and tea will be served in a true Rue de la Paix manner. There will be a story-telling session for little children and outside games for the older ones. A prominent Woodstock artist will make her well known "Portraits in Pastel" from 10-minute sittings and a photographer will make 60-second Polaroid pictures of children. There will be many other diversions for both younger and older fry.

The French tricolors have been chosen as decoration motif, because July 14 is Bastille Day, anniversary of French independence, and the Tatra Prints wall silhouettes are loaned by Rotron. There will be music throughout the day.

All proceeds from the bazaar will go to the building fund to further complete the new parish hall, which is now serving not only the church but the community at large.

The Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's, says: "Come one, come all for a good cause and a gala day."

Chairmen Roster Is Nearly Filled For Library Fair

Chairmen have been assigned for all booths and features for the 35th annual Woodstock Library Fair, except the antique and jewelry departments, Mrs. Percy Lyon Jr., Fair Chairman, announced.

The committee designations were announced by Mrs. Lyon at last week's organizational meeting. She also stressed the need for more assistance in manning individual departments on the Fair day, Thursday, July 26.

Following are the departments and chairmen this year: Great Expectations, Mrs. James Baston, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, Mrs. Victor Allen, Mrs. Andre Neher; Grounds, Nick Gentile; General Supply, Mrs. Inger Walker; Antiques (to be filled later).

Aprons, Mrs. E. N. Goddard; Art Supplies, Mrs. John Pike; Baby sitting, Mrs. P. DeSalvo; Balloons , Earl Christiana and Vito Di Benedetto; Books, Mrs. Gus Schroeder; Cafeteria, Mrs. Peter Grad and Mrs. Dwight Harris; China and Glass, Mrs. James Myers; Clothing, Mrs. Elizabeth Clough and Mrs. Margaret Antenucci; Hats, Mrs. T. N. Criscimagni; Crazy Hats, Mrs. Dudley D. Fuller; Hot dogs and pop, Arthur Hansen; Flea Market, Mrs. Regina Lash and Mrs. Barbara Marcatol Jewelry (to be announced); Makeup, Mrs. Clarice Leavey, Mrs. Barbara Moncure and Mrs. Eva Donaldson; Pastel Portraits, Mrs. Laurence Rainsford; Lemon Sticks, Mrs. William Brooks.

Mystery Emcee

The master of ceremonies, reputed to be a "mystery man" will be announced later. Other chairmen: Entertainment, Mrs. Abram Molyneaux; Shopping bags, Mrs. Anna Nemser; Shoes, Mrs. Betty Rose; Greeting cards, a new feature, Miss Mari Bolmann and Mrs. Robert Pick; Linens and draperies, Mrs. Fritz Werner; Toys, Mrs. Charles Sheldon; Fruits and vegetables, Mrs. William Waterous; Ice cream, by Ambrose of Kingston and the Midway, with Ray Kenyon and Fred Strassberg.

Mrs. Monroe Longendyke is in charge of the Collection Center which has been operating for some time now. It also staged a highly successful auction. The center has a telephone number, the same as the library.

Mrs. Peter Pike is making special posters for publicity. Publicity is being handled by Mrs. Daniel Garel, Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf and a certain retiring member of the fourth estate, Manning A. Booth.

All in all, it is an impressive list of workers, representatives of many a Library Fair and many more recently arrived Woodstockers who have discovered the fun and satisfaction of preparing a real community "party," meeting not only Woodstockers, but folks from all over the Hudson Valley. Quite a list and what a Fair du Couer, says the publicity department.

Fire Bazaar Is Huge Success

On the basis of incomplete returns, the annual bazaar sponsored by Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 last weekend was the most successful in the history of the company, it was announced.

The bazaar broke all records for attendance, variety of events and awards and other factors.

Great interest centered on the awarding of several paintings by prominent Woodstock artists. The major winners were: Stanley Longyear, a painting by Allen Cochrane; Adele Longendyke, painting by Paul Arndt; Mrs. E. V. Tucker, painting by Therese Kessel; Mr. McLeod, painting by Marion Wingert; Lester Avery, painting by John Galvin.

Mrs. Stirling Wolven won a hi-fi set and Clayton Harder took the major merchandise award.

Company officials had high praise for the tremendous job done by the women's auxiliary and also praised the excellent performance of the Catskill band.

Polari Gallery To Have Exhibit By Anna Neagoe

A one-man show of oil paintings by Anna Neagoe, internationally noted artist, will be held at the Polari Gallery of the Woodstock Playhouse, from Aug. 11 through Aug. 24, owner-manager, M. Edgar Rosenblum, has announced.

Woodstockers and visitors will recall the memorable, highly successfully 40-year retrospective show of Mrs. Neagoe's paintings held in Woodstock last year. Her first exhibition in several years, it attracted considerable notice in this area and among art-lovers and the art press elsewhere in this country as well as abroad, where the artist often lived and worked during the past half-century.

The show at the Polari Gallery in August will include 'selected pieces from her four-decade span of artistic activity plus some recent work.

Mrs. Neagoe, a Woodstock resident for a number of years, is the widow of the late Peter Neagoe, who was noted as a novelist and short story writer, authority on Roumanian peasant life, and a painter of first rank himself.

During the past year the new lay speaker has occupied the pulpits in Pine Hill, Big Indian, Shandaken, Lanesville, Phoenicia, Willow, and Shady.

Eighmey is currently serving the Shady church as chairman of the Board of Trustees, as well as lay leader of the church.

An adult Bible study class is now being formed at the Woodstock Reformed Church. The classes are open to everyone and visitors in the community are welcome.

The class will meet every Thursday from 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. The first meeting is scheduled on Thursday, July 5.

Persons desiring further information are asked to call Mrs. Artinian or the summer student minister, David Bourns.

Bids Solons Take Stand Opposing Court on Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., has asked Congress to declare that it doesn't think official but voluntary prayers in public schools violate the Constitution.

This would put the House and Senate on record as disagreeing with the Supreme Court, which ruled last week that such prayers are unconstitutional.

Robertson proposed a concurrent resolution Monday and arranged to have it held for a week so other senators can join in sponsoring the measure.

The resolution wouldn't be binding on anyone even if it passed the Senate and House. Joint resolutions require the president's signature and have force of law. Concurrent resolutions do not.

Conviction Set Aside

Teeners Granted New Trial in Guard's Slaying

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A lower court first-degree murder conviction and life sentences for two teen-agers has been set aside by the Fourth Department, Appellate Divison, pending a new trial.

The court, in a 4-1 opinion, ordered a new trial Monday for Gary W. Oddy, 17, of South Glens Falls, and Harry L. Barr, 17, of Albany on charges that they fatally beat a Wyoming County prison guard to death during an alleged jail break May 17, 1961.

Convicted Sept. 25

Oddy and Barr were convicted of first-degree murder last Sept. 25 in the death of Blakeley B. Humphrey, 67, of Warsaw. The jury recommended the life sentences. Police said the two beat the victim with a metal spring from a bed while trying to flee.

They had been held there on a charge of first-degree grand larceny in the alleged theft of an automobile following their flight from the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry (Monroe County).

Juror Basis of Decision

The majority opinion, written by associate Justice Harry D. Goldman, said the conviction and sentences were reversed on the ground that an alternate juror who replaced an ill juror before the case was submitted to the jury, should have been excused by County Judge John S. Conable because of bias expressed during the empaneling of the jury.

The opinion also said Conable should have charged the jurors that they could find the youths guilty of lesser degrees of homicide, such as first or second-degree manslaughter. The alternate juror, the opinion noted, had been a law enforcement officer and jail guard for 39 years.

The division also upheld an action by the State Civil Service Commission in striking the name of a Utica police detective from the department's lieutenants' eligibility list.

The commission had accused John J. Belmont of cheating during a Civil Service examination for lieutenant. A later action by Belmont in a special term of the State Supreme Court in Oneida County resulted in the restoration of his name to the eligibility list.

In the Appellate Division reversal of the Supreme Court decision, the majority opinion said that while there was "no direct evidence that the man copied the answers from another person taking the test," there "was ample circumstantial evidence that he had done so."

Three Boys Held After Grant Co. Incident Monday

Three teen-age Saugerties boys probably will be petitioned into Children's Court, as the result of an incident which caused a stir of excitement Monday afternoon in the W. T. Grant Co. department store, 307 Wall Street.

Two boys are 14 and the other is 13. Because of their ages their names were withheld by police.

Shortly after 3 p. m. yesterday, police received a call reporting a holdup at the Wall Street store. Several police cars sped to the scene. Two boys were caught in the store by an employe and the third was picked up by police on Wall Street.

According to police, one of the boys reportedly took $35 from a cash register. Police said the money was recovered.

The boys were taken to police headquarters for questioning and later were permitted to return to their homes in Saugerties.

Investigating were Lieut. Lemuel Howard, Detective Harold DeGraff, and Officers Thomas Carpino, Raymond Wells, John Kennedy, and James Scott.

The parking department said Monday 8 of 122 meters checked so far were defective.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally began trailing off early this afternoon with trading slack in advance of the Independence Day holiday.

Reflecting a slight gain on balance in an irregular market, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 213.50 with industrials up .30, rails up .20, and utilities up .10.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers but not by much. No particular leadership to the upside appeared in the list.

Ordinary preholiday caution was heightened by the fact that the market has just finished a string of three straight sessions in which a majority of stocks gained ground.

International Business Machines, after rising a point or so, then showing a net loss of about 2, traded about unchanged.

Others in the "growth" category showed minor gains and losses.

American Telephone, which sparked Monday's rally on news of record earnings, pushed ahead fractionally at the start, then held about steady.

Parcel Service Will Return to Normalcy by 5th

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Parcel Service says operations will be back to normal by Thursday as a result of the end of a seven-week strike of union drivers.

The walkout ended Monday, but only after a last-minute hitch in which machinists who maintain the company's trucks first rejected, then accepted their contract agreement.

The walkout, which began May 14, affected the delivery of millions of packages from department stores and specialty shops in the metropolitan area.

The 2,300 drivers, members of a Teamsters Union, accepted on Sunday the terms of a contract they had twice previously rejected.

But when the 200 mechanics, members of Local 447 of the International Association of Machinists, rejected their agreement Monday morning, the drivers refused to work.

Peace talks were immediately launched and the mechanics voted, 103 to 44, later in the day for a three-year contract calling for a 47½-cent-an hour wage increase and 2½ cents an hour as a tool allowance.

The drivers had won pay increases totaling 42½ cents an hour over the next three years, a job security clause, and improved pensions and fringe benefits. Wages for drivers before the strike were $2.57½ an hour.

The company began picking up packages Monday night for delivery today. No work will be done Wednesday, a holiday.

6 Motorists Are Fined for Speed

Charged with speeding on East Chester Street on Monday, six motorists checked with the electric timer by police, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman and paid fines.

Stephen Gill, 54, of 444 Hasbrouck Avenue, and Roland Salluce, 24, of 454½ Main Street, Catskill, each paid a $20 fine. Fines of $15 were paid by Marilyn Bronson, 26, Box 76, Ruby; Alice Gaddis, 57, of Ruby; Clara McGrath, 43, of 300 Lucas Avenue and James Devine, 38, of 209 Clinton Avenue.

Cellar Fire Quickly Checked on Monday

Firemen quickly checked fire that burned a wooden post in the cellarway of the four-family residence at 401 Washington Avenue, shortly before 4 p. m. Monday. The fire might have been caused by children playing with matches, firemen said.

Pressurized water was used to extinguish the blaze. Fire units from Central, Wiltwyck and Wicks stations answered the call at 3:45 p. m.

At 5:51 p. m. Monday, units from Central, Cornell, Rapid Hose and Wicks stations were dispatched to Brewster and Levan Streets. Firemen quelled a brisk brush fire at the rear of 13 Trenton Street with a hydrant stream attached to Engine 1.

1,000 Start Move Out of Thailand, 4,200 Still There

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Transport planes and helicopters flew U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,200-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon, depending on the situation.

'Dives' to Bellevue

NEW YORK (AP) — John Rigney, 25, explained to police that he ascended to the top of a 200-foot construction crane because he wanted to demonstrate that high places could be climbed without falling.

His explanation came after he plunged from the crane into the Harlem River Monday night and had to be rescued by two patrolmen. The Bronx steelworker was taken to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Income, Not Real Growth Found in Bank Deposits

Q) "One of your readers said she held $30,000 worth of stocks, paying 3.7 per cent. Your advice was to hold these stocks. Since their return is less than can be obtained from a savings account, why should she hold the stocks?" Y. L.

A) Although the recent decline may make it harder for you to grasp my explanation, the reason why it is worthwhile to hold sound stocks—after a sufficient savings reserve has been set up—is simply this: Capital placed in stocks can appreciate. Money in the bank cannot—although it can give you the utmost in safety and stability.

It is perfectly true, as I have often pointed out here, that stocks can go down as well as up, and we have seen this demonstrated forcefully in recent months. On average, however, they have appreciated six fold in the past 20 years, and many individual issues have done even better.

Q) "I bought some shares of Raytheon and at higher price levels. The company has received a lot of praise from some stock analysts, but its shares aren't doing so well. Would you buy more in order to average down?" E. J.

A) Quite frankly, I wouldn't think of adding more Raytheon at this point. Instead, I'd consider selling the shares I already owned.

Raytheon, in my opinion, has a good deal of promise, and if management can succeed in cutting rising costs and lifting profit margins, some worthwhile share gains might eventually result. Over the near to intermediate term, though, I'd prefer to have my money in a situation less dependent on Federal spending.

The shares seem weak to me from a technical standpoint, and they may work somewhat lower before any worthwhile upsurge can begin. My suggestion is that you sell, using the proceeds to buy shares of Monroe Auto Equipment (OTC), which I believe will help you make up your loss much faster.

Johnson Accused Of Assaulting Woman With Knife

Accused of assaulting a woman in her apartment Sunday morning, Peter Johnson, 37, truckman, of 69 Liberty Street, was arrested Monday afternoon by Sergeant Julius Glassman on a warrant issued by City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman.

Johnson was charged with second degree assault. Police reported the defendant is accused of cutting Florence Peterson, 19 Ann Street with a jackknife. The woman was taken to Kingston Hospital where 45 sutures were taken to close wounds of the left leg.

'Paris in Woodstock' Theme Planned in St. Gregory Bazaar

"Paris in Woodstock" is the theme of the all-day bazaar planned by the women of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, on Saturday, July 14. The bazaar starts at 9 a. m. and closes at 5 p. m. and promises to be a gala affair, offering many extra and appealing attractions.

Gay booths will display the works of many hands, including knitted, crocheted and sewn articles for infants, in-betweens and adults. A jewelry booth will offer enticing costume jewelry, with perhaps something genuine thrown in.

Christmas decorations for door, table or mantle will be for sale and a flower table will feature both cut and potted plants. High on the list of attractions is the food booth, featuring the specialties for which St. Gregory's is known — cakes, pies, cookies, luncheon or dinner casseroles and salads, a wonderful way to cut down on Sunday cooking.

A flea market will offer tempting bargains in china, glass, bric-a-brac and what-have you's. The Cathedral booth will have beautiful religious articles and books from the exhibit hall of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York.

In French Style

Luncheon and tea will be served in a true Rue de la Paix manner. There will be a story-telling session for little children and outside games for the older ones. A prominent Woodstock artist will make her well known "Portraits in Pastel" from 10-minute sittings and a photographer will make 60-second Polaroid pictures of children. There will be many other diversions for both younger and older fry.

The French tricolors have been chosen as decoration motif, because July 14 is Bastille Day, anniversary of French independence, and the Tatra Prints wall silhouettes are loaned by Rotron. There will be music throughout the day.

All proceeds from the bazaar will go to the building fund to further complete the new parish hall, which is now serving not only the church but the community at large.

The Rev. Lloyd H. Uyeki, vicar of St. Gregory's, says: "Come one, come all for a good cause and a gala day."

Mystery Emcee

The master of ceremonies, reputed to be a "mystery man" will be announced later. Other chairmen: Entertainment, Mrs. Abram Molyneaux; Shopping bags, Mrs. Anna Nemser; Shoes, Mrs. Betty Rose; Greeting cards, a new feature, Miss Mari Bolmann and Mrs. Robert Pick; Linens and draperies, Mrs. Fritz Werner; Toys, Mrs. Charles Sheldon; Fruits and vegetables, Mrs. William Waterous; Ice cream, by Ambrose of Kingston and the Midway, with Ray Kenyon and Fred Strassberg.

Mrs. Monroe Longendyke is in charge of the Collection Center which has been operating for some time now. It also staged a highly successful auction. The center has a telephone number, the same as the library.

Mrs. Peter Pike is making special posters for publicity. Publicity is being handled by Mrs. Daniel Garel, Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf and a certain retiring member of the fourth estate, Manning A. Booth.

All in all, it is an impressive list of workers, representatives of many a Library Fair and many more recently arrived Woodstockers who have discovered the fun and satisfaction of preparing a real community "party," meeting not only Woodstockers, but folks from all over the Hudson Valley. Quite a list and what a Fair du Couer, says the publicity department.

Fire Bazaar Is Huge Success

On the basis of incomplete returns, the annual bazaar sponsored by Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 last weekend was the most successful in the history of the company, it was announced.

The bazaar broke all records for attendance, variety of events and awards and other factors.

Great interest centered on the awarding of several paintings by prominent Woodstock artists. The major winners were: Stanley Longyear, a painting by Allen Cochrane; Adele Longendyke, painting by Paul Arndt; Mrs. E. V. Tucker, painting by Therese Kessel; Mr. McLeod, painting by Marion Wingert; Lester Avery, painting by John Galvin.

Mrs. Stirling Wolven won a hi-fi set and Clayton Harder took the major merchandise award.

Company officials had high praise for the tremendous job done by the women's auxiliary and also praised the excellent performance of the Catskill band.

Polari Gallery To Have Exhibit By Anna Neagoe

A one-man show of oil paintings by Anna Neagoe, internationally noted artist, will be held at the Polari Gallery of the Woodstock Playhouse, from Aug. 11 through Aug. 24, owner-manager, M. Edgar Rosenblum, has announced.

Woodstockers and visitors will recall the memorable, highly successfully 40-year retrospective show of Mrs. Neagoe's paintings held in Woodstock last year. Her first exhibition in several years, it attracted considerable notice in this area and among art-lovers and the art press elsewhere in this country as well as abroad, where the artist often lived and worked during the past half-century.

The show at the Polari Gallery in August will include 'selected pieces from her four-decade span of artistic activity plus some recent work.

Mrs. Neagoe, a Woodstock resident for a number of years, is the widow of the late Peter Neagoe, who was noted as a novelist and short story writer, authority on Roumanian peasant life, and a painter of first rank himself.

Persons desiring further information are asked to call Mrs. Artinian or the summer student minister, David Bourns.

Bids Solons Take Stand Opposing Court on Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., has asked Congress to declare that it doesn't think official but voluntary prayers in public schools violate the Constitution.

This would put the House and Senate on record as disagreeing with the Supreme Court, which ruled last week that such prayers are unconstitutional.

Robertson proposed a concurrent resolution Monday and arranged to have it held for a week so other senators can join in sponsoring the measure.

The resolution wouldn't be binding on anyone even if it passed the Senate and House. Joint resolutions require the president's signature and have force of law. Concurrent resolutions do not.

Conviction Set Aside

Teeners Granted New Trial in Guard's Slaying

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A lower court first-degree murder conviction and life sentences for two teen-agers has been set aside by the Fourth Department, Appellate Divison, pending a new trial.

The court, in a 4-1 opinion, ordered a new trial Monday for Gary W. Oddy, 17, of South Glens Falls, and Harry L. Barr, 17, of Albany on charges that they fatally beat a Wyoming County prison guard to death during an alleged jail break May 17, 1961.

Convicted Sept. 25

Oddy and Barr were convicted of first-degree murder last Sept. 25 in the death of Blakeley B. Humphrey, 67, of Warsaw. The jury recommended the life sentences. Police said the two beat the victim with a metal spring from a bed while trying to flee.

They had been held there on a charge of first-degree grand larceny in the alleged theft of an automobile following their flight from the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry (Monroe County).

Juror Basis of Decision

The majority opinion, written by associate Justice Harry D. Goldman, said the conviction and sentences were reversed on the ground that an alternate juror who replaced an ill juror before the case was submitted to the jury, should have been excused by County Judge John S. Conable because of bias expressed during the empaneling of the jury.

The opinion also said Conable should have charged the jurors that they could find the youths guilty of lesser degrees of homicide, such as first or second-degree manslaughter. The alternate juror, the opinion noted, had been a law enforcement officer and jail guard for 39 years.

The division also upheld an action by the State Civil Service Commission in striking the name of a Utica police detective from the department's lieutenants' eligibility list.

The commission had accused John J. Belmont of cheating during a Civil Service examination for lieutenant. A later action by Belmont in a special term of the State Supreme Court in Oneida County resulted in the restoration of his name to the eligibility list.

In the Appellate Division reversal of the Supreme Court decision, the majority opinion said that while there was "no direct evidence that the man copied the answers from another person taking the test," there "was ample circumstantial evidence that he had done so."

Three Boys Held After Grant Co. Incident Monday

Three teen-age Saugerties boys probably will be petitioned into Children's Court, as the result of an incident which caused a stir of excitement Monday afternoon in the W. T. Grant Co. department store, 307 Wall Street.

Two boys are 14 and the other is 13. Because of their ages their names were withheld by police.

Shortly after 3 p. m. yesterday, police received a call reporting a holdup at the Wall Street store. Several police cars sped to the scene. Two boys were caught in the store by an employe and the third was picked up by police on Wall Street.

According to police, one of the boys reportedly took $35 from a cash register. Police said the money was recovered.

The boys were taken to police headquarters for questioning and later were permitted to return to their homes in Saugerties.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally began trailing off early this afternoon with trading slack in advance of the Independence Day holiday.

Reflecting a slight gain on balance in an irregular market, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 213.50 with industrials up .30, rails up .20, and utilities up .10.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers but not by much. No particular leadership to the upside appeared in the list.

Ordinary preholiday caution was heightened by the fact that the market has just finished a string of three straight sessions in which a majority of stocks gained ground.

International Business Machines, after rising a point or so, then showing a net loss of about 2, traded about unchanged.

Others in the "growth" category showed minor gains and losses.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 52 Main Street. Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr., manager.

The parking department said Monday 8 of 122 meters checked so far were defective.

Parcel Service Will Return to Normalcy by 5th

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Parcel Service says operations will be back to normal by Thursday as a result of the end of a seven-week strike of union drivers.

The walkout ended Monday, but only after a last-minute hitch in which machinists who maintain the company's trucks first rejected, then accepted their contract agreement.

The walkout, which began May 14, affected the delivery of millions of packages from department stores and specialty shops in the metropolitan area.

The 2,300 drivers, members of a Teamsters Union, accepted on Sunday the terms of a contract they had twice previously rejected.

But when the 200 mechanics, members of Local 447 of the International Association of Machinists, rejected their agreement Monday morning, the drivers refused to work.

Peace talks were immediately launched and the mechanics voted, 103 to 44, later in the day for a three-year contract calling for a 47½-cent-an hour wage increase and 2½ cents an hour as a tool allowance.

The drivers had won pay increases totaling 42½ cents an hour over the next three years, a job security clause, and improved pensions and fringe benefits. Wages for drivers before the strike were $2.57½ an hour.

The company began picking up packages Monday night for delivery today. No work will be done Wednesday, a holiday.

6 Motorists Are Fined for Speed

Charged with speeding on East Chester Street on Monday, six motorists checked with the electric timer by police, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman and paid fines.

Stephen Gill, 54, of 444 Hasbrouck Avenue, and Roland Salluce, 24, of 454½ Main Street, Catskill, each paid a $20 fine. Fines of $15 were paid by Marilyn Bronson, 26, Box 76, Ruby; Alice Gaddis, 57, of Ruby; Clara McGrath, 43, of 300 Lucas Avenue and James Devine, 38, of 209 Clinton Avenue.

Cellar Fire Quickly Checked on Monday

Firemen quickly checked fire that burned a wooden post in the cellarway of the four-family residence at 401 Washington Avenue, shortly before 4 p. m. Monday. The fire might have been caused by children playing with matches, firemen said.

Pressurized water was used to extinguish the blaze. Fire units from Central, Wiltwyck and Wicks stations answered the call at 3:45 p. m.

At 5:51 p. m. Monday, units from Central, Cornell, Rapid Hose and Wicks stations were dispatched to Brewster and Levan Streets. Firemen quelled a brisk brush fire at the rear of 13 Trenton Street with a hydrant stream attached to Engine 1.

1,000 Start Move Out of Thailand, 4,200 Still There

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Transport planes and helicopters flew U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,200-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon, depending on the situation.

'Dives' to Bellevue

NEW YORK (AP) — John Rigney, 25, explained to police that he ascended to the top of a 200-foot construction crane because he wanted to demonstrate that high places could be climbed without falling.

His explanation came after he plunged from the crane into the Harlem River Monday night and had to be rescued by two patrolmen. The Bronx steelworker was taken to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Income, Not Real Growth Found in Bank Deposits

Q) "One of your readers said she held $30,000 worth of stocks, paying 3.7 per cent. Your advice was to hold these stocks. Since their return is less than can be obtained from a savings account, why should she hold the stocks?" Y. L.

A) Although the recent decline may make it harder for you to grasp my explanation, the reason why it is worthwhile to hold sound stocks—after a sufficient savings reserve has been set up—is simply this: Capital placed in stocks can appreciate. Money in the bank cannot—although it can give you the utmost in safety and stability.

It is perfectly true, as I have often pointed out here, that stocks can go down as well as up, and we have seen this demonstrated forcefully in recent months. On average, however, they have appreciated six fold in the past 20 years, and many individual issues have done even better.

Q) 'I bought some shares of Raytheon and at higher price levels. The company has received a lot of praise from some stock analysts, but its shares aren't doing so well. Would you buy more in order to average down?" E. J.

A) Quite frankly, I wouldn't think of adding more Raytheon at this point. Instead, I'd consider selling the shares I already owned.

Raytheon, in my opinion, has a good deal of promise, and if management can succeed in cutting rising costs and lifting profit margins, some worthwhile share gains might eventually result. Over the near to intermediate term, though, I'd prefer to have my money in a situation less dependent on Federal spending.

The shares seem weak to me from a technical standpoint, and they may work somewhat lower before any worthwhile upsurge can begin. My suggestion is that you sell, using the proceeds to buy shares of Monroe Auto Equipment (OTC), which I believe will help you make up your loss much faster.

Johnson Accused Of Assaulting Woman With Knife

Accused of assaulting a woman in her apartment Sunday morning, Peter Johnson, 37, truckman, of 69 Liberty Street, was arrested Monday afternoon by Sergeant Julius Glassman on a warrant issued by City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman.

Local Holstein Has New 289-Day Record

Jaway Dean Laurel T, a three-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by Franklin S. Kelder, Jaway Farms, Accord, has completed an official 289-day record of 18,250 pounds of milk and 621 pounds of butterfat.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official breed improvement programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing the new record, a spokesman for the National Holstein organization said it compared to the average cows annual output of approximately 7,000 pounds of milk containing 265 pounds of butterfat.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer doldrums this year may be a bit more relaxed than usual. Part of this is due to the fatigue showing up in many industrial lines after months of expansion. Part is due to new labor patterns calling for longer vacations.

Together these add up to more plant shutdowns and longer ones in many communities.

And on the management side there is a tendency to wait and see what Congress will do about a number of issues hanging fire that could affect future business planning.

Some management planning may take shape after the Treasury announces at the end of the week its new rules for tax allowances for wear and tear.

Business will welcome whatever relaxation is granted. But many feel that the Treasury hasn't the power to go as far in setting new rules for depreciation allowances as industry feels it needs. This would require congressional action.

Also hanging fire is the tax cut issue. And business is inclined to wait and see in this instance, too.

Involved is timing—tax cuts now or in the next session of Congress. Also at stake is the kind of tax cut. Business naturally prefers a cut in corporate income tax rates, and a sharp reduction in the upper brackets of individual incomes, where business thinks it gets its funds for risk investments.

Labor naturally is advocating cuts in the lower personal brackets. It holds that this will increase consumer purchasing power at a time when it is needed.

While these issues are hanging fire, business planning may mark time. But just as much a deterrent is the current uncertainty as to whether a slackening recovery is foretelling a coming recession —and whether the jitters in the stock market mean a readjustment of prices to earnings potentials or reflect a blow to public confidence in the health of the economy.

All of these things add to the usual slowdown in business at this time of year. But the slowdown probably would have been more noticeable this year in any event.

Industry vacations have been increasing for several years. This time they have the impetus of a number of new labor contracts that stress such fringe benefits. Last summer's one week shutdown may become two weeks this year, or longer.

But if more plants are idle for more days, there are other lines of business to reap a benefit from it.

More leisure time can mean more spending for recreation—boating, fishing, travel.

The industrial production index may drop this summer. But a number of service industries should report nice gains. Personal income totals are high. Americans have a huge total of savings on which to draw.

If business relaxes a bit more than usual this summer, maybe a lot of Americans will be relaxing, too.

See Early Restoration at Higher Rates If Income Tax Is Cut Now

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is an income tax cut effective this year or even next Jan. 1, it will have to be a temporary slash, with an early date fixed for automatic restoration of higher rates.

This is the opinion of key members of Congress who would have to do the spadework of tax-reducing legislation. The procedure still officially favored by the Kennedy administration—income tax rate reduction as part of general tax reform, enacted next year but made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963—simply isn't practicable for any quick relief, they believe.

Two Years Required

Two years is the minimum time required to work out and enact a general revision of the Internal Revenue Code, one congressional expert of the highest qualifications estimated.

A tax cut strictly limited in time—perhaps only six months—would provide the quick reduction some experts believe is needed to boost the economy. And it would give Congress the time necessary to revise the complex tax code.

While leaders have made no commitments, the mechanics that would be required for an early tax cut inevitably are being talked about informally as pressure outside Congress builds up for a fast-acting boost to the economy.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce joined on Friday the ranks of taxcut advocates, which also include the AFL-CIO.

The Kennedy administration is known to be thinking in terms of a $6.5-billion tax cut if it becomes convinced such action is needed to keep the economy from sliding down. Sources close to President Kennedy said Saturday his present feeling is that the time for a tax reduction has not yet arrived.

Corporations Favored

Kennedy advisers are talking about the possibility of lowering the present top of 52 per cent on corporations to 50 per cent. This would involve a $5.6-billion reduction for business. Another $900 million reduction should result from raising the present $600 exemption for individuals to $800.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said Sunday he hoped Congress would vote to reduce corporate and individual tax rates by at least $5 billion before it adjourns.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said in a recorded television interview that if a tax cut is necessary to give the economy a boost "it ought to be done now."

Delhi Dairy Tour Slated This Month

DELHI—Vocational agriculture students from high schools in every part of New York State are expected to enter Delhi Tech's 35th annual livestock judging tour July 26 and 27.

Last year, 71 schools entered three-man teams in the event. Close to 300 contestants and instructors traveled in 80 cars to the four central New York dairy farms which offered their animals for judging in the contest.

Trophies are awarded to the top two high school teams. Medals are given the first three high scorers, and calves are given to the high placing contestants who have a project in the breeds involved: Jersey, Holstein and Guernsey.

More than 40 million cords of pulpwood were used to produce the 440 pounds per capita consumption of paper and paperboard in the U.S. during 1961.

Plattekill Board Appeals to PSC For Road Signals

In a move supporting the Plattekill Grange, the Town Board of the Town of Plattekill unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Supervisor Joseph Martorana petitioning the Public Service Commission to request the Trustees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. to install flashing signals at the New Hurley Road crossing in the Town of Plattekill.

The resolution notes that five school buses transporting pupils of the Wallkill Central School District use this unprotected railroad crossing twice daily. It further notes that the conditions at the crossing are unsafe and a hazard to the traveling public and requests that a modern warning system be installed.

The town board resolution refers to the efforts of the Plattekill Grange in circulating and filing a petition with the commission in this same matter. Copies of the resolution have been sent to the Public Service Commission in Albany and to the trustees of the railroad in New York City.

Local Holstein Has New 289-Day Record

Jaway Dean Laurel T, a three-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by Franklin S. Kelder, Jaway Farms, Accord, has completed an official 289-day record of 18,250 pounds of milk and 621 pounds of butterfat.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official breed improvement programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing the new record, a spokesman for the National Holstein organization said it compared to the average cows annual output of approximately 7,000 pounds of milk containing 265 pounds of butterfat.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analysis

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer doldrums this year may be a bit more relaxed than usual. Part of this is due to the fatigue showing up in many industrial lines after months of expansion. Part is due to new labor patterns calling for longer vacations.

Together these add up to more plant shutdowns and longer ones in many communities.

And on the management side there is a tendency to wait and see what Congress will do about a number of issues hanging fire that could affect future business planning.

Some management planning may take shape after the Treasury announces at the end of the week its new rules for tax allowances for wear and tear.

Business will welcome whatever relaxation is granted. But many feel that the Treasury hasn't the power to go as far in setting new rules for depreciation allowances as industry feels it needs. This would require congressional action.

Also hanging fire is the tax cut issue. And business is inclined to wait and see in this instance, too.

Involved is timing—tax cuts now or in the next session of Congress. Also at stake is the kind of tax cut. Business naturally prefers a cut in corporate income tax rates, and a sharp reduction in the upper brackets of individual incomes, where business thinks it gets its funds for risk investments.

Labor naturally is advocating cuts in the lower personal brackets. It holds that this will increase consumer purchasing power at a time when it is needed.

While these issues are hanging fire, business planning may mark time. But just as much a deterrent is the current uncertainty as to whether a slackening recovery is foretelling a coming recession —and whether the jitters in the stock market mean a readjustment of prices to earnings potentials or reflect a blow to public confidence in the health of the economy.

All of these things add to the usual slowdown in business at this time of year. But the slowdown probably would have been more noticeable this year in any event.

Industry vacations have been increasing for several years. This time they have the impetus of a number of new labor contracts that stress such fringe benefits. Last summer's one week shutdown may become two weeks this year, or longer.

But if more plants are idle for more days, there are other lines of business to reap a benefit from it.

More leisure time can mean more spending for recreation—boating, fishing, travel.

The industrial production index may drop this summer. But a number of service industries should report nice gains. Personal income totals are high. Americans have a huge total of savings on which to draw.

If business relaxes a bit more than usual this summer, maybe a lot of Americans will be relaxing, too.

Plattekill Board Appeals to PSC For Road Signals

In a move supporting the Plattekill Grange, the Town Board of the Town of Plattekill unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Supervisor Joseph Martorana petitioning the Public Service Commission to request the Trustees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. to install flashing signals at the New Hurley Road crossing in the Town of Plattekill.

The resolution notes that five school buses transporting pupils of the Wallkill Central School District use this unprotected railroad crossing twice daily. It further notes that the conditions at the crossing are unsafe and a hazard to the traveling public and requests that a modern warning system be installed.

The town board resolution refers to the efforts of the Plattekill Grange in circulating and filing a petition with the commission in this same matter. Copies of the resolution have been sent to the Public Service Commission in Albany and to the trustees of the railroad in New York City.

See Early Restoration at Higher Rates If Income Tax Is Cut Now

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is an income tax cut effective this year or even next Jan. 1, it will have to be a temporary slash, with an early date fixed for automatic restoration of higher rates.

This is the opinion of key members of Congress who would have to do the spadework of tax-reducing legislation. The procedure still officially favored by the Kennedy administration—income tax rate reduction as part of general tax reform, enacted next year but made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963—simply isn't practicable for any quick relief, they believe.

Two Years Required

Two years is the minimum time required to work out and enact a general revision of the Internal Revenue Code, one congressional expert of the highest qualifications estimated.

A tax cut strictly limited in time—perhaps only six months—would provide the quick reduction some experts believe is needed to boost the economy. And it would give Congress the time necessary to revise the complex tax code.

While leaders have made no commitments, the mechanics that would be required for an early tax cut inevitably are being talked about informally as pressure outside Congress builds up for a fast-acting boost to the economy.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce joined on Friday the ranks of taxcut advocates, which also include the AFL-CIO.

The Kennedy administration is known to be thinking in terms of a $6.5-billion tax cut if it becomes convinced such action is needed to keep the economy from sliding down. Sources close to President Kennedy said Saturday his present feeling is that the time for a tax reduction has not yet arrived.

Corporations Favored

Kennedy advisers are talking about the possibility of lowering the present top of 52 per cent on corporations to 50 per cent. This would involve a $5.6-billion reduction for business. Another $900 million reduction should result from raising the present $600 exemption for individuals to $800.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said Sunday he hoped Congress would vote to reduce corporate and individual tax rates by at least $5 billion before it adjourns.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said in a recorded television interview that if a tax cut is necessary to give the economy a boost "it ought to be done now."

Delhi Dairy Tour Slated This Month

DELHI—Vocational agriculture students from high schools in every part of New York State are expected to enter Delhi Tech's 35th annual livestock judging tour July 26 and 27.

Last year, 71 schools entered three-man teams in the event. Close to 300 contestants and instructors traveled in 80 cars to the four central New York dairy farms which offered their animals for judging in the contest.

Trophies are awarded to the top two high school teams. Medals are given the first three high scorers, and calves are given to the high placing contestants who have a project in the breeds involved: Jersey, Holstein and Guernsey.

More than 40 million cords of pulpwood were used to produce the 440 pounds per capita consumption of paper and paperboard in the U.S. during 1961.

43 at Wedding In Plattekill Poisoned by Food

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Miss Elsie Santos and Hecor Cardenos were married Sunday at the Plattekill Methodist Church and later they joined 150 guests at the Spanish Social Club for a wedding reception.

There was a festival atmosphere until one of the guests became ill, and then another, and then another—until 43 were taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said they apparently had suffered food poisoning.

The hospital treated and released 10 persons and kept 32 other persons for further care.

The bride and groom were so nervous said the bride's father, Joseph Santos, that they left early and ate nothing.

Cards Determine Dummy's Play

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Today's hand is similar to yesterday's. It is exactly the same contract, same dummy and same opening lead. The East and West Cards have been changed a trifle and instead of holding ace-eight-four of spades, South has ace-ten-four.

With this combination of cards, South should play second hand low. Once he plays second hand low, he is assured of his contract because there is no way for the defense to keep him from taking two spade tricks. Thus, if West holds the jack and plays it, South wins with the ace. Later the king will pick up dummy's queen, but the ten spot will become the top spade.

If South plays the queen from dummy and holds the trick, he will also have two spade tricks, but the hand has been set up with East holding the king and West the jack. East will play the king on the queen and South will have a choice of losing plays.

If he ducks, East will return a spade. South's ten of spades will be trapped by West's jack and South will make only one spade trick.

If South takes the trick, he will have to go after clubs. East will get the lead with the ace and a spade lead will give West four tricks.

Feels Minnesota Should Get More Defense Research

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn. feels Minnesota and many other states are not receiving a fair share of the money the federal government spends for defense research and procurement.

Humphrey, in a statement Monday, protested that three of every four dollars worth of prime contracts awarded by the Defense Department to universities and non-profit research institutions go to five states — Massachusetts, California, Maryland, New York, and Illinois — and to the District of Columbia.

Humphrey added that in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1961, California received 41 per cent of the total research contracts let, and New York received 12 per cent.

The total value of the contracts totaled $6 million. The senator said the other 48 states shared in the remaining 47 per cent of the $6 million.

He said a better balance should be maintained by giving a reasonable share of the funds to qualified schools and non-profit institutions in other areas.

Banning Prayer

Editor, The Freeman:

Since the Supreme Court has recently ruled that prayer shall not be offered in the class room of the public school, it would be well that this ruling serve as notice to all parents, Sunday school, churches, etc., that if we are to keep America Christian we have a battle on our hands. Indeed it is a shame that the public schools of a great nation like ours would see fit to bar prayer to the Almighty God in a public class room. Our nation only became great because our forefathers had faith in a great God. We as a nation were born in such a spiritual atmosphere and we can breathe no other air and survive. In the State Board of Regents suggested prayer for public schools, no pupil would be forced to participate in the recitation of such. The Supreme Court ruling in banning the prayer tends to abolish God entirely from the public school system simply because some Godless parents do not want their children to even be compelled to hear a prayer. What are we coming to in our country? We seem to be so afraid of God or even the mention of His Holy Name in public. How can we carry our national currency in our pockets when inscribed on it is the motto "In God We Trust"? Will the next move be to abolish this also?

Now that simple, inter-faith prayer is illegal in our public schools, cannot at least the singing of our National Anthem and the Pledging of Allegiance to the Flag be made compulsory? When we cease to think of our wonderful country in terms of "God and Country" we are finished. We are not far from that now. So parents, pray with your children, teach them Faih in God, warn them that all teaching that may be found in or out of the class room that tends to destroy faith is atheistic and un-American. Either we cling fast to faith in God or we surrender to Godless Communism. Which shall it be?

Editor, The Freeman:

Every year around "holiday time" some merchants are stricken with an uncontrollable urge to reap in a few extra dollars by staying open for business as usual on a national holiday. I wish to express the opinion that this is most unpatriotic. The shoppers of this country have ample time to make their purchases before a holiday. It is understandable that restaurants, motels, etc., must carry on but stores selling merchandise have no excuse for this practice.

I urge the good citizens of this community to "nip this in the bud" before competition becomes so keen the holidays will be ignored. Let us all observe these days as true Americans. Hats off to those business men that continue to do so!

Editor, The Freeman:

Every year around "holiday time" some merchants are stricken with an uncontrollable urge to reap in a few extra dollars by staying open for business as usual on a national holiday. I wish to express the opinion that this is most unpatriotic. The shoppers of this country have ample time to make their purchases before a holiday. It is understandable that restaurants, motels, etc., must carry on but stores selling merchandise have no excuse for this practice.

I urge the good citizens of this community to "nip this in the bud" before competition becomes so keen the holidays will be ignored. Let us all observe these days as true Americans. Hats off to those business men that continue to do so!

Sincerely yours,
CATHERINE DITTUS

Central Planning To Drop 2 Trains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Central Railroad plans to discontinue two passenger trains between Albany, N.Y., and Boston July 28.

The Interstate Commerce Commission said Monday it had been notified of the Central's intention, which the railroad said was dictated by losses on the runs for several years.

One of the trains is No. 400, which leaves Albany at 10:35 a.m. each day and stops at Chatham, N.Y., and Pittsfield, Springfield, Palmer, Worcester, Framingham, Newtonville, and Boston, Mass.

The other is No. 411. It leaves Boston's South Station at 9 p.m. each day and stops at Newtonville, Framingham, Springfield, and Pittsfield enroute to Albany.

Bing's Son Will Be Hospitalized a Month

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lindsay Crosby, 24, will be hospitalized about a month with a nervous breakdown, says his uncle, Larry Crosby.

Lindsay, the youngest of singer Bing Crosby's four grown songs, entered St. 'John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica Sunday.

Larry Crosby said Lindsay also is suffering from influenza and is under the care of Dr. Robert Buckeley, a psychiatrist.

"Lindsay suffered a nervous breakdown last February when his wife, Barbara, was ill. I guess he just got up too soon," said the uncle.

Double Occasion

MacDonald Movie Fan Club Loyalty Lasts Long Time

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Old movie fans never die, not if they are Jeanette MacDonald's.

Forty of the singing star's fans gathered here this week, coming from as far away as Australia. The double occasion: the 25th wedding anniversary of Miss MacDonald and Gene Raymond; the 25th year of the fan club.

"I'm quite touched by it," said Miss MacDonald. "It was all very spontaneous on their part. It's really quite amazing. You don't see that kind of loyalty very often."

You surely don't. Miss MacDonald's major film career ended with "Cairo" in 1942. Except for a brief return for two films in 1948, she has been absent from the movie stages since then. Yet her fan clubs remain among the most active.

The 40 far-flung fans started assembling here last week.

The festivities for the celebration included a dinner at the Lauau Restaurant, given by the Raymonds. The fans were treated to a visit to MGM studios, where Jeanette and Nelson Eddy reigned as the sweethearts of song in the 1930s. The group took a vote for which film they would most like to see. Winner was "Smiling Through," appropriate since it also starred Gene Raymond. Due to a legal complication with the authors, it is the only one of Miss MacDonald's films that has not appeared on television.

The fans saw "Smiling Through," plus the "This Is Your Life" television show that starred Miss MacDonald. Today they are visiting the Bel-Air mansion which Jeanette and Gene have shared during their married life.

She is at a loss to account for the continuing loyalty of her fans. Far from waning, they are even growing in number, she reported.

"We're getting a new influx because of television," she said. "A lot of young people are joining."

The 25-year-old fan club is only one of hers. Another highly organized club dates back to when she starred with Maurice Chevalier in 1934.

Naturally the fans are always plugging for a comeback. When producer Ross Hunter mentioned that he was considering Miss MacDonald for a Doris Day film, he was flooded with enthusiastic letters. "That makes me feel good," said the singer, who would welcome a return.

Holsteins Exported

Two registered area holsteins owned by Murray & Warren Wigsten, Wigsten's Highline Farm, Pleasant Valley were recently exported to Canada. Included in the shipment to Gordon Ainslie, Curries, Ontario, Canada, were Highline Ivanhoe Maney Marie, heifer, and Sensation Highline Maney Jule, cow. In announcing the transaction, The Holstein-Friesian Association of America reported a continuing export demand for registered seed stock backed by official records of both production and type.

Soblen Not Well Enough for His Return Here Yet

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Robert Soblen probably will not be well enough to travel to the United States "for at least another two or three days," a hospital spokesman announced today.

The fugitive spy who tried to commit suicide to escape a life sentence in the United States spent a fairly comfortable night and the improvement in his condition was maintained, the spokesman said.

Soblen, convicted of spying for the Soviet Union, forfeited $100,000 bail and fled to Israel last week. He slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the stomach Sunday as an airplane returning him from Tel Aviv was winging over the English Channel.

Kingston Woman Named to Staff Of New York VFW

Mrs. Julia Lane of Kingston, a member of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veteran of Foreign Wars, here was elected a guard in the auxiliary of the New York State Department of VFW at the convention at Binghamton.

Mrs. Betty Cullum of East Patchogue was elected president of the Auxiliary to succeed Mrs. Lena Rank of Herkimer.

According to the Associated Press J. Mallory Loos of Rochester was named Department of New York commander.

The election was held Saturday at the closing session of the VFW's annual three-day parley.

She'll Take Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Songwriter Ben Oakland, 54, who wrote "I'll Take Romance," must pay $400 monthly support to his divorced wife, Eleonore, 49.

The couple told a Superior Court commissioner Monday they had agreed on a financial settlement.

First minted in 1652, the pine tree shilling, early American coin, was struck without change until 1864.

FOURTH OF JULY 1962

Instead of the tricorn of a ragged Revolutionary soldier the American hero of today wears a space helmet. And the original flag has almost quadrupled in stars. But even if a flintlock or quill and scroll seem like antiquated museum pieces the spirit of 1776 lives as a vibrant inspiration in our modern times. This inviolate spirit is simply that of freedom---a concept of the basic rights of mankind. It is an unquenchable flame that burns more brightly today in far-off corners of the world and shall someday light the skies in the still mysterious reaches of outer space. On the Fourth of July 1962 we salute American patriots from the Minute Men to the Missile Men---all of whom have guarded our nation's sacred beacon and kept it glowing brightly.

But even if a flintlock or quill and scroll seem like antiquated museum pieces the spirit of 1776 lives as a vibrant inspiration in our modern times. This inviolate spirit is simply that of freedom---a concept of the basic rights of mankind. It is an unquenchable flame that burns more brightly today in far-off corners of the world and shall someday light the skies in the still mysterious reaches of outer space. On the Fourth of July 1962 we salute American patriots from the Minute Men to the Missile Men---all of whom have guarded our nation's sacred beacon and kept it glowing brightly.

WALKING OUT ON BOY FRIEND

Q: My boy friend and I were invited to a party at a friend's house last Saturday night. I have been going out with this young man for several months and he has always been very well mannered and a perfect gentleman. However, the other night at the party he did a complete about-face. He apparently had too much to drink and became very obnoxious. I was mortified by his behavior and after awhile I asked one of the other young men at the party (whom I know very well) to please drive me home. The next day my boy friend called and apologized for his behavior but reprimanded me for having walked out on him and said that I had embarrassed him in front of everyone. I would very much like to have your opinion as to whether I was right or wrong in walking out on him?

A: Most certainly you were right. In addition to his apology you should have his promise never to repeat his disgraceful behavior before going out with him again.

When Bride's Address Is Unknown

Q: A friend of mine has told me that it is incorrect to put a return address on the envelope of wedding invitations. If this is true, how will friends and relatives of the bridegroom who do not know the bride's address, know where to send their replies or wedding presents?

A: If the bride's address is unknown to many of the wedding guests, it is correct to put it under the R.S.V.P. on the reception invitations.

Refusing an Invitation

Q: Is it necessary to explain the reason for having to refuse an invitation?

A: To a very intimate friend you would naturally say, "I'm sorry, but I am lunching with Jane" or, "We are going to the theater," or whatever the reason. To someone you know only slightly, you say regretfully, "I'm so sorry, I have an engagement for that day."

July 4th Traffic May Reach Total Of 1,400,000 Cars

The first mid-week July 4th holiday in many years will draw approximately 1,400,000 cars on highways and parkways in the New York metropolitan area, the Automobile Club of New York predicted yesterday.

If the weather holds fair, the majority of holiday travelers will be found for nearby beaches, parks and other recreational facilities within easy driving distance, according to T. Richard Martin, manager of the auto club's travel department.

The heavy emphasis on one-day outings coupled with highway construction at key points in the area may result in major traffic jams, Martin said.

He advised motorists to get an early start in the day's driving, preferably before 10 a. m. The peak hours for motorists returning to New York City will be 6 to 9 p. m.

For those traveling to New York City during the holiday, the AAA official pinpointed likely locations for traffic jams as the Grand Central Parkway and Northern Boulevard in Queens; the Bronx end of the Triborough Bridge; the George Washington Bridge and connecting roads on both the New York and New Jersey sides; the connecting ramp between the Gowanus Parkway and Prospect Expressway in Brooklyn, and the temporary terminus of the Cross Bronx Expressway at Jerome Avenue in the Bronx.

Must Accept Pupils

State Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr., yesterday ordered three school districts near the Town of Newburgh to accept 153 tenth-grade pupils from the towns for the next school year. The order is a "stop-gap, temporary solution," Commissioner Allen said for an emergency. The city of Newburgh, which has accommodated some of the town's pupils for many years, now says its classrooms are too crowded. The commissioner directed that the pupils be distributed among the schools in: The City of Poughkeepsie; Central School District No. 1 of Marlboro, Plattekill and the Town of Newburgh and the Central School District No. 3 of Lloyd, Marlboro and New Paltz.

Helps With Prayer

AdvancedSurgery Saves Crushed Arm of Laborer

LOS ANGELES (AP)— "I told them to save my arm if they could," said the 61-year-old laborer. "I helped the doctors with a little prayer."

And save it they did, say the surgeons at Orthopedic Hospital. Dr. J. Vernon Luck, medical director, described the circumstances at a news conference Monday.

Robert Orona, of suburban Pico-Rivera, was at work last Aug. 24 when a road-tamper crushed and tore off his left arm. He was taken to the hospital an hour later.

Dr. Luck found two of the three main nerves intact in a two-inch strip of flesh from which Orona's arm was dangling. A long section of the third nerve was missing along with bone and muscle.

While Dr. Luck told of the two-hour operation, Orona wiggled five fingers at the end of an L-shaped arm that observers compared to a coarsely shaped hamburger with a tissue-thin glaze of skin.

Dr. Luck said: "Surgery has advanced to a point where it is proper to try to save extremities we once would have amputated. We joined the severed bone with a rod, then sewed the arteries together and took skin grafts from the man's thigh."

Dr. Luck said the result is "much better than an artificial arm, and it will get better. He can hold things with his fingers and by using his shoulder can lift light objects. He should be able to do some sort of light bench work after a time."

HARRISON AND PAT MULLER, professional dance team, will appear in the New York State Pageant at Kingston Municipal Auditorium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Harrison and Pat Muller are well known to Broadway and television audiences. They have appeared in numerous Broadway productions including Allergo, Bloomer Girl, Best Foot Forward, Pal Joey and Oklahoma. In addition, they were with the "Oklahoma" company that toured Europe under the sponsorship of the U. S. State Department. Local residents will recall Harrison and Pat's appearances on well known TV shows. They spent several years under contract to CBS and NBC. Some of the headliners for whom they appeared were Steve Allen, Sid Ceaser, Milton Berle and Jack Paar. Mr. and Mrs. Muller currently operate the Harrison and Pat Muller School of Dance in Woodstock.

Hurricane Hell Drivers At Dietz Stadium Friday

Dietz stadium will become a scene of calculated calamity Friday night, July 6, when the Hurricane Hell Drivers take over for what one national magazine describes as "automotive fury and motorcycling insanity. Showtime is set for 8:30 p. m.

The show, which is billed as the original compact car thrill show, will feature two, three and four-car precision driving and motorcycling acrobatics performed by the best known names in the business. These drivers have earned the title of world champions through their exhibitions of skill and daring, both in Canada and the United States, and intend to live up to that title during their current tour of the continent this summer.

"Dapper Dan" Fleenor, Rocky Fisher, Jim Trainor and Pete Goss, together with famed circus clowns, will defy death as they race, crash and smash their way through 28 events and two hours of thrills and spills.

The specialties range from precision driving to a flaming "slide for life", a stunt most authorities said was impossible. In this act, a new Lancer hardtop will be catapulted from a narrow take-off ramp 65 feet through space attempting to land on a narrow rundown ramp.

Roadrunners Stunned

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Ridgecrest Roadrunners, a team of 9-year-olds in a YMCA baseball league, didn't do much running in their game with the Sooner Bluejays Monday. But the Bluejays ran and ran.

The game was called after 1½ innings because of darkness with the Bluejays leading 68-0.

Said a dazed Roadrunner: "I thought I was going to rot out there."

Bill Waterous Winner Of Townley Memorial

Bill Waterous, a Woodstock taxi tycoon, fired a 2-over-par 142 for 36 holes to edge his brother, Herb Waterous, Wiltwyck Country Club groundkeeper, by 2 strokes in winning 1962 Warren Townley Memorial tournament at Woodstock Country Club.

Bill's opening day 37-35-72 was three strokes off the pace, as long hitting Jerry Bjorkman posted a 1-under-par 34-25-69. But the winner matched par figures of 35-35-70 on Sunday, while Bjorkman faded to 39-38-77.

Herb Waterous, meanwhile, four shots behind Bjorkman at the end of the first round with 36-37-73, rallied for 37-34-71 Sunday to slip into the runner-up slot, with 144. Bjorkman totalled 146.

The two Waterous brothers received trophies for their first and second place finishes. Merchandise awards were made to several low net winners.

Leading the low net field was Lambert Dean with 139. He fired rounds of 79-78-157 and had combined handicap of 18. Bjorkman had second low net with 146-6-140.

Other low net leaders included:

Donovan Wins 12th For Tribe

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Subtract Dick Donovan from Cleveland and the Indians very well could be floundering around in the second division.

As it is, the hopeful Indians are just a half game off the American League pace being set by the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Angels.

The Indians, in the throes of a five-game losing string that had knocked them out of first place, called on Donovan to be the stopper Monday night.

The tall right-hander, acquired in the trade that sent fiery Jim Piersall to Washington, responded with a brilliant two-hit, 2-0 triumph over Baltimore in which he faced the minimum 27 batters.

The victory pushed his record to 12-3, which, subtracted from the Indians 42-34 season mark, would put Cleveland below .500 and in seventh place.

New York and Los Angeles remained a half-game up on the Indians, the Yankees beating Kansas City 8-4 and the Angels edging Washington 2-1. It left the Yankees with a .004 hold on first place. Minnesota lost to Boston 4-3 and went 1½ games off the pace, while Detroit edged Chicago 2-1.

Arroyo Is Winner

New York blew a 4-0 lead, fashioned on home runs by Roger Maris, Hector Lopez and Mickey Mantle, then rallied for four runs in the eighth against Kansas City. A sacrifice fly to Bill Skowron and Phil Linz' single each accounted for one run and Tom Tresh drove in two more with a single in the Yanks' winning rally.

A lead-off homer by George Alusik triggered a four-run Kansas City seventh inning that tied it up and chased Yank starter Bill Stafford. Luis Arroyo got the victory in relief, his first against two losses this season.

The Angels were out-hit 6-4, but half of them were homers, solo jobs by Steve Bilko in the fifth and Bob Rodgers' tie-breaker in the ninth. Tom Morgan (2-2), third Los Angeles pitcher, got the victory.

Two straight force outs at the plate helped Boston out of an eighth-inning jam and dropped Minnesota a full game back of Cleveland. With the bases loaded and none out in the eighth, the Red Sox' Mike Fornieles got Bob Allison to bounce back to the mound and Earl Battey to ground to third. Bernie Allen flied to center to end the threat. Ed Bressoud drove in three runs, including two on a single in the sixth that put Boston ahead to stay.

Sam Jones (1-2) struck out 10 and scattered six hits in pitching the Tigers past Chicago. He had a shutout going until Al Smith hit a homer in the ninth. Norm Cash hit his 21st homer for the Tigers.

Though they only made three hits—all of them doubles—the VFW players took advantage of six walks and five errors to beat the K of C, 10-7, in a Babe Ruth League game yesterday.

Jack Schatzel, Greg Munson and Bob Kolfer had doubles with Munson getting a pair of them.

Safe Boating Week

Mid-Hudson Power Squadron Gives Course, Safety Tips

In connection with National Safe Boating Week, proclaimed this week by President Kennedy, members of the Mid-Hudson Power Squadron Inc. recently conducted the New York State's Young Boatman's Safety Training Course at Arlington High School in Poughkeepsie.

The squadron held the course in an effort to assist the youth of the area between 10 and 14 years of age to know and observe the regulations established to protect all users of the state waterways. Those who passed the final examination received safety certificates.

National Safe Boating Week will be observed by forty million boating enthusiasts throughout the nation. This new field of recreation, despite the apparent leisurely existence afloat, can have its element of danger, unless the boating public is aware of its hazards. The United States Power Squadrons, a nationwide organization dedicated to education in all phases of boating, offers courses to the public on boat handling. Advanced courses are given in engine maintenance, sail boating, weather and all aspects of navigation.

The Mid-Hudson Power Squadron lists ten steps to safety afloat, which, if carefully observed, will insure that all seafarers will contribute to, and receive, the protection and considerate treatment which now prevail among the boating fellowship.

1. Never cast off until you have checked your boat as well as the weather, wind, tide and current.

2. Never overload your boat, carry a US Coast Guard approved life preserver for every person on board and insist on their being worn when safety is doubtful.

3. Carry filled fire extinguishers and all other equipment according to law.

4. Be careful when fueling. Do not smoke, turn off all flames and electrical equipment as well as all doors, hatches and ports. Hold fill nozzle in contact with fill pipe to prevent static sparking and avoid spilling. Ventilate all compartments and bilges and eliminate all fumes before restarting engine.

5. Know and obey the rules of the road — these are boating's traffic regulations.

6. Obtain and know the correct charts of the areas you navigate, know the significance of bouys and other aids to navigation.

7. Observe good housekeeping aboard; have a place for everything and keep everything in its place; carry anchors, sea anchors, a boathook and adequate rope.

8. Know how to handle your boat; keep an alert lookout; never take chances.

9. Be courteous, careful and competent; watch your wake and wash; give sailboats and larger vessels the right of way.

10. Take advantage of the free courses offered by the United States Power Squadron.

Roadrunners Stunned

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Ridgecrest Roadrunners, a team of 9-year-olds in a YMCA baseball league, didn't do much running in their game with the Sooner Bluejays Monday. But the Bluejays ran and ran.

The game was called after 1½ innings because of darkness with the Bluejays leading 68-0.

Said a dazed Roadrunner: "I thought I was going to rot out there."

Donovan Wins 12th For Tribe

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Subtract Dick Donovan from Cleveland and the Indians very well could be floundering around in the second division.

As it is, the hopeful Indians are just a half game off the American League pace being set by the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Angels.

The Indians, in the throes of a five-game losing string that had knocked them out of first place, called on Donovan to be the stopper Monday night.

The tall right-hander, acquired in the trade that sent fiery Jim Piersall to Washington, responded with a brilliant two-hit, 2-0 triumph over Baltimore in which he faced the minimum 27 batters.

The victory pushed his record to 12-3, which, subtracted from the Indians 42-34 season mark, would put Cleveland below .500 and in seventh place.

New York and Los Angeles remained a half-game up on the Indians, the Yankees beating Kansas City 8-4 and the Angels edging Washington 2-1. It left the Yankees with a .004 hold on first place. Minnesota lost to Boston 4-3 and went 1½ games off the pace, while Detroit edged Chicago 2-1.

Arroyo Is Winner

New York blew a 4-0 lead, fashioned on home runs by Roger Maris, Hector Lopez and Mickey Mantle, then rallied for four runs in the eighth against Kansas City. A sacrifice fly to Bill Skowron and Phil Linz' single each accounted for one run and Tom Tresh drove in two more with a single in the Yanks' winning rally.

A lead-off homer by George Alusik triggered a four-run Kansas City seventh inning that tied it up and chased Yank starter Bill Stafford. Luis Arroyo got the victory in relief, his first against two losses this season.

The Angels were out-hit 6-4, but half of them were homers, solo jobs by Steve Bilko in the fifth and Bob Rodgers' tie-breaker in the ninth. Tom Morgan (2-2), third Los Angeles pitcher, got the victory.

Two straight force outs at the plate helped Boston out of an eighth-inning jam and dropped Minnesota a full game back of Cleveland. With the bases loaded and none out in the eighth, the Red Sox' Mike Fornieles got Bob Allison to bounce back to the mound and Earl Battey to ground to third. Bernie Allen flied to center to end the threat. Ed Bressoud drove in three runs, including two on a single in the sixth that put Boston ahead to stay.

Sam Jones (1-2) struck out 10 and scattered six hits in pitching the Tigers past Chicago. He had a shutout going until Al Smith hit a homer in the ninth. Norm Cash hit his 21st homer for the Tigers.

TOWNLEY CHAMPION: Bill Waterous, second from right, edged his brother, Herb, by two strokes 142-144 to capture the coveted Warren Townley Memorial tournament trophy at Woodstock Country Club. From the left: Alex Sharpe, golf chairman; Herb Waterous, Harold Dungey, donor of the trophy; Bill Waterous, and J. Carson Hutchins, club professional.

Bill Waterous Winner Of Townley Memorial

Bill Waterous, a Woodstock taxi tycoon, fired a 2-over-par 142 for 36 holes to edge his brother, Herb Waterous, Wiltwyck Country Club groundkeeper, by 2 strokes in winning 1962 Warren Townley Memorial tournament at Woodstock Country Club.

Bill's opening day 37-35-72 was three strokes off the pace, as long hitting Jerry Bjorkman posted a 1-under-par 34-25-69. But the winner matched par figures of 35-35-70 on Sunday, while Bjorkman faded to 39-38-77.

Herb Waterous, meanwhile, four shots behind Bjorkman at the end of the first round with 36-37-73, rallied for 37-34-71 Sunday to slip into the runner-up slot, with 144. Bjorkman totalled 146.

The two Waterous brothers received trophies for their first and second place finishes. Merchandise awards were made to several low net winners.

Leading the low net field was Lambert Dean with 139. He fired rounds of 79-78-157 and had combined handicap of 18. Bjorkman had second low net with 146-6-140.

Hughes-Costello Seek Berths in State Amateur

George Hughes of Twaalfskill and William (Buzzy) Costello of Wiltwyck will compete in the New York State Amateur qualifying round Friday, July 6, at the Dutchess Golf and Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

A record breaking field of 61 players is entered, chairman William F. Bogle announced. At stake will be six berths for the 40th annual State Amateur scheduled July 18-22 at the Glens Falls Country Club.

A practice round will be permitted Thursday.

VFW Wins, 10-7, Over K of C Club

Though they only made three hits—all of them doubles—the VFW players took advantage of six walks and five errors to beat the K of C, 10-7, in a Babe Ruth League game yesterday.

Ed Scherick did some nifty relief hurling for the winners. He came in to hurl in the fourth frame with the bases loaded and three runs already home. Scherick slammed the door on the losers the rest of the way.

Jack Schatzel, Greg Munson and Bob Kolfer had doubles with Munson getting a pair of them.

Tonight's slate has the Legion meeting Kiwanis at 6 at the Athletic Field and Elks playing the Vols at 6 at Dietz Stadium.

Safe Boating Week

Mid-Hudson Power Squadron Gives Course, Safety Tips

In connection with National Safe Boating Week, proclaimed this week by President Kennedy, members of the Mid-Hudson Power Squadron Inc., recently conducted the New York State's Young Boatman's Safety Training Course at Arlington High School in Poughkeepsie.

The squadron held the course in an effort to assist the youth of the area between 10 and 14 years of age to know and observe the regulations established to protect all users of the state waterways. Those who passed the final examination received safety certificates.

National Safe Boating Week will be observed by forty million boating enthusiasts throughout the nation. This new field of recreation, despite the apparent leisurely existence afloat, can have its element of danger, unless the boating public is aware of its hazards. The United States Power Squadrons, a nationwide organization dedicated to education in all phases of boating, offers courses to the public on boat handling. Advanced courses are given in engine maintenance, sail boating, weather and all aspects of navigation.

The Mid-Hudson Power Squadron lists ten steps to safety afloat, which, if carefully observed, will insure that all seafarers will contribute to, and receive, the protection and considerate treatment which now prevail among the boating fellowship.

1. Never cast off until you have checked your boat as well as the weather, wind, tide and current.

2. Never overload your boat, carry a US Coast Guard approved life preserver for every person on board and insist on their being worn when safety is doubtful.

3. Carry filled fire extinguishers and all other equipment according to law.

4. Be careful when fueling. Do not smoke, turn off all flames and electrical equipment as well as all doors, hatches and ports. Hold fill nozzle in contact with fill pipe to prevent static sparking and avoid spilling. Ventilate all compartments and bilges and eliminate all fumes before restarting engine.

5. Know and obey the rules of the road — these are boating's traffic regulations.

6. Obtain and know the correct charts of the areas you navigate, know the significance of bouys and other aids to navigation.

7. Observe good housekeeping aboard; have a place for everything and keep everything in its place; carry anchors, sea anchors, a boathook and adequate rope.

8. Know how to handle your boat; keep an alert lookout; never take chances.

9. Be courteous, careful and competent; watch your wake and wash; give sailboats and larger vessels the right of way.

10. Take advantage of the free courses offered by the United States Power Squadron.

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME ... by MURRAY

"I knew he had guts," said Gabe Paul, describing his reason for hiring unknown Mel McGaha to manage the contending Cleveland Indians. . . . "I knew he would run a club the way he wanted to run it." . . . which is the ultimate testimonial from a general manager. . . .

Young pitcher Hal Reniff, rejoining the New York Yankees from the Army, says candidly, "I should be in good shape . . . I got all the exercise I needed . . . picking up cigaret butts for five hours a day."

The tip-off on the confidence of 22-year-old Jack Nicklaus, who came within an eagle of winning the Thunderbird, richest on the tour, was his frank appraisal after shooting a 73, "I'm not a 73 golfer." . . . Flip Jack also claims he's still not playing as well as a professional as he did in his amateur days — not even when he tied for first at Houston . . . "Houston was my worst tournament," he shrugged. . . .

Jack Nicklaus

Nicklaus finds that taking a week off the tour poses more problems than staying on it . . . the kind who likes to relax a little and stay up late, he cracks "I have to get back to the grind to get some rest." . . .

His recent weeks in the outfield have Johnny Blanchard, cover boy of the Yankees (people are beginning to recognize him in cigaret ads) muttering to himself. This should have happened 10 years ago. . . . Just by being able to stretch my legs, instead of crouching behind the plate, I'm faster than I've been at any time in eight years." . . .

Since the Boyers are about to set some kind of record for getting baseball bonuses—a fourth member of the tribe has signed with the Yankees on the heels of Cloyd, Ken and Cletis—third baseman Clete of the Yankees was asked why he took Kansas City's money originally. . . . "Actually," he said, "the Baltimore Orioles offered me more money than any other team, but I wanted to stay closer to home." . . . Base is Alba, Mo. . . .

You got to be careful what you say when you're around Clint Murchison Jr., and Bedford Wynne, the Texas oilionaires who started the Dallas Cowboys. . . . Bedford was at Clint's house and as the party was breaking up, he said to his wife, "Those fellows coming tomorrow to fix the driveway?" . . . Next morning, up bright and early, Bedford started to go out to the car but couldn't find it. . . . Instead there was a mound of gravel 20 feet high covering driveway, car and all. . . . Clint, overhearing the conversation, had moved in the middle of the night.

Civilization has come to Woodie Held's Big Diamond Dude Ranch near Dubois, Wyo. . . . Last winter the Indian shortstop had to go 95 miles to the nearest doctor. . . . Now there's one 14 miles away. . . .

The early season batting splurge of Chuck Essegian has the Cleveland slugger ducking attention from the barrage of writers decending on him. . . . "See me after the season," he sidesteps all questions on his sudden blooming as a power hitter. . . . The former Stanford linebacker still insists there's a lot to be said for pro football over baseball "because you find out right away."

Catcher Hoble Landrith's baseball wanderlust—the Baltimore Orioles are the sixth team he's been with in the major leagues—has its side benefits for his other job . . . he manages a chain motel in San Francisco and drums up business in the various cities he visits or plays in. . . .

Roger Maris' bat-in-hand, red-neck strut toward Robin Roberts during the Yankee-Oriole rhubarb at Yankee Stadium was the second time he's sounded off in recent days. . . . He didn't like what New York writer Phil Pepe wrote about his fielding during a Ralph Terry two-hitter and muttered, 'What do you mean I wasn't impeccable? I don't even know what it means,". . .

Between you'n'me you hear undertones that the biggest problem the lowly New York Mets are having is with the enigmatic managerial strategy. . . . They sometimes wonder if Casey Stengel understands his own moves. . . .

Subway Protest Is Upheld by Softball Head

President Bill Mahoney of the City Softball League has upheld a protest, filed by Vince Peck, manager of Subway Grill after Subway had dropped a 3-2 decision to Yallum's Kings.

Subway protested because a base umpire's decision, which had been made on a runner going to first base in the seventh inning, was overruled by the plate umpire. The arbitrator on the bases called the runner safe, permitting the tying run to score.

The game will be resumed with two outs in the seventh inning, a runner on second base and the score knotted at 3-3 with Subway at bat. The clubs will continue from there the next time they meet in a regularly scheduled contest.

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME ... by MURRAY

"I knew he had guts," said Gabe Paul, describing his reason for hiring unknown Mel McGaha to manage the contending Cleveland Indians. . . . "I knew he would run a club the way he wanted to run it." . . . which is the ultimate testimonial from a general manager. . . .

Young pitcher Hal Reniff, rejoining the New York Yankees from the Army, says candidly, "I should be in good shape . . . I got all the exercise I needed . . . picking up cigaret butts for five hours a day."

The tip-off on the confidence of 22-year-old Jack Nicklaus, who came within an eagle of winning the Thunderbird, richest on the tour, was his frank appraisal after shooting a 73, "I'm not a 73 golfer." . . . Flip Jack also claims he's still not playing as well as a professional as he did in his amateur days — not even when he tied for first at Houston . . . "Houston was my worst tournament," he shrugged. . . .

Jack Nicklaus

Nicklaus finds that taking a week off the tour poses more problems than staying on it . . . the kind who likes to relax a little and stay up late, he cracks "I have to get back to the grind to get some rest." . . .

His recent weeks in the outfield have Johnny Blanchard, cover boy of the Yankees (people are beginning to recognize him in cigaret ads) muttering to himself. This should have happened 10 years ago. . . . Just by being able to stretch my legs, instead of crouching behind the plate, I'm faster than I've been at any time in eight years." . . .

Since the Boyers are about to set some kind of record for getting baseball bonuses—a fourth member of the tribe has signed with the Yankees on the heels of Cloyd, Ken and Cletis—third baseman Clete of the Yankees was asked why he took Kansas City's money originally. . . . "Actually," he said, "the Baltimore Orioles offered me more money than any other team, but I wanted to stay closer to home." . . . Base is Alba, Mo. . . .

You got to be careful what you say when you're around Clint Murchison Jr., and Bedford Wynne, the Texas oilionaires who started the Dallas Cowboys. . . . Bedford was at Clint's house and as the party was breaking up, he said to his wife, "Those fellows coming tomorrow to fix the driveway?" . . . Next morning, up bright and early, Bedford started to go out to the car but couldn't find it. . . . Instead there was a mound of gravel 20 feet high covering driveway, car and all. . . . Clint, overhearing the conversation, had moved in the middle of the night.

Civilization has come to Woodie Held's Big Diamond Dude Ranch near Dubois, Wyo. . . . Last winter the Indian shortstop had to go 95 miles to the nearest doctor. . . . Now there's one 14 miles away. . . .

The early season batting splurge of Chuck Essegian has the Cleveland slugger ducking attention from the barrage of writers decending on him. . . . "See me after the season," he sidesteps all questions on his sudden blooming as a power hitter. . . . The former Stanford linebacker still insists there's a lot to be said for pro football over baseball "because you find out right away."

Catcher Hoble Landrith's baseball wanderlust—the Baltimore Orioles are the sixth team he's been with in the major leagues—has its side benefits for his other job . . . he manages a chain motel in San Francisco and drums up business in the various cities he visits or plays in. . . .

Roger Maris' bat-in-hand, red-neck strut toward Robin Roberts during the Yankee-Oriole rhubarb at Yankee Stadium was the second time he's sounded off in recent days. . . . He didn't like what New York writer Phil Pepe wrote about his fielding during a Ralph Terry two-hitter and muttered, 'What do you mean I wasn't impeccable? I don't even know what it means,". . .

Between you'n'me you hear undertones that the biggest problem the lowly New York Mets are having is with the enigmatic managerial strategy. . . . They sometimes wonder if Casey Stengel understands his own moves. . . .

Subway Protest Is Upheld by Softball Head

President Bill Mahoney of the City Softball League has upheld a protest, filed by Vince Peck, manager of Subway Grill after Subway had dropped a 3-2 decision to Yallum's Kings.

Subway protested because a base umpire's decision, which had been made on a runner going to first base in the seventh inning, was overruled by the plate umpire. The arbitrator on the bases called the runner safe, permitting the tying run to score.

The game will be resumed with two outs in the seventh inning, a runner on second base and the score knotted at 3-3 with Subway at bat. The clubs will continue from there the next time they meet in a regularly scheduled contest.

A girl over in an adjoining county played "postoffice" at a party the other night.

She yelled and howled and shrieked and ran behind the door and scratched the young man's face in seven places, upset a lamp, kicked over an organ stool, trod on the cat's tail, and when the youth finally kissed her on the tip of an ear she fainted dead away.

Afterward, she said she could never look anybody in the face again. They led the gentle, modest, sobbing creature home, and the next day she ran away with a married, red-headed butcher who had a harelip and nine children.

Masonry Replaces Barbed Wire on W. Berlin Border

BERLIN (AP)—Working behind a screen of smoke and tear gas, the Communists began building a wall along West Berlin's border with East Germany Monday night. There was some suspicion they planned to surround West Berlin with concrete and steel barriers.

The Communists have virtually completed the barricade they began last August along the 26-mile border between East and West Berlin. Until Monday night, the 69-mile rough arc marking West Berlin's boundary with East Germany had been fenced off only with barbed wire.

West Berlin police said the extension work began at Falkenseer Chaussee, a broad street leading from the East German village of Falkensee into the northwest corner of the divided city. Trucks unloaded concrete slabs there and at Seegefelder Weg, a parallel street about 1,000 yards to the south.

East German police threw tear gas and smoke bombs at the West to screen the activity, but West Berlin police could see the workmen laboring under floodlights in a cold rain to replace the barbed wire with masonry.

The extent of the Communist plans to extend the wall could not be determined immediately. The work began only a day after East German Interior Minister Karl Maron called on his police to make the "protective wall even more impenetrable."

Guerrillas Make Landing in Cuba To Fan Rebellion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An anti-Castro unit leader says 20 of his men are fanning new fires of rebellion in Cuba after a successful landing in restless Matanzas Province.

Frank Fiorini, an American, said the All-Cuban group got ashore from a boat Monday. He called the men "specially trained guerrillas who are members of the international anti-Communist brigade."

"We expect to hear from them," the Norfolk, Va., native said without elaboration.

The mission of the 20 guerrillas he said is "to support and extend anti-Castro uprisings in (The Matanzas) area" west of Havana.

Winnie Improves, Wife Is Visitor

LONDON (AP). — Sir Winston Churchill, now recovered enough to sit up out of bed, was visited by his wife today in Middlesex Hospital.

Lady Churchill told reporters, "He is getting on very nicely."

She said there is not yet any indication when Sir Winston's fractured thigh will be sufficiently healed to let him out of the hospital.
